A Teacher And A Friend

A friend is someone who listens, who cares, and is a great treasure to have. When a teacher matches this description, a fabulous combination is created which encourages learning. We have had on our campus, for fifteen years, just such a person. He really gets to know his students and takes time to listen and explain. He has graciously given numerous hours of time and hard work to our school, including his service for 8 years as our ASB Advisor. This man is loved by students and faculty alike. His students are tremendously motivated to do well and to become more involved. So, it is with great pride and affection that we dedicate the 1987 Legend to Mr. Richard Baker.

"America's Finest

Finest

Students In America's City''

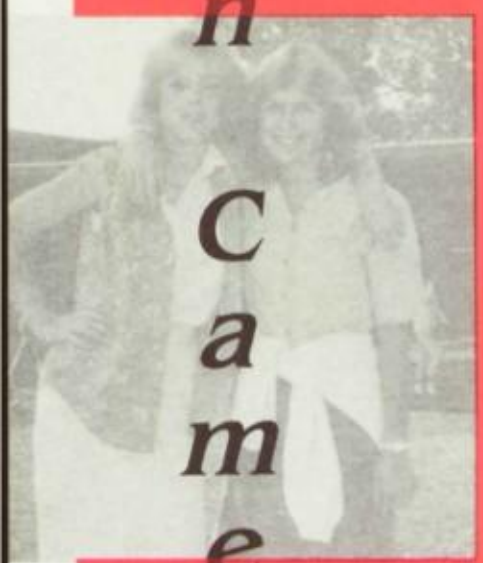
''On The Move''

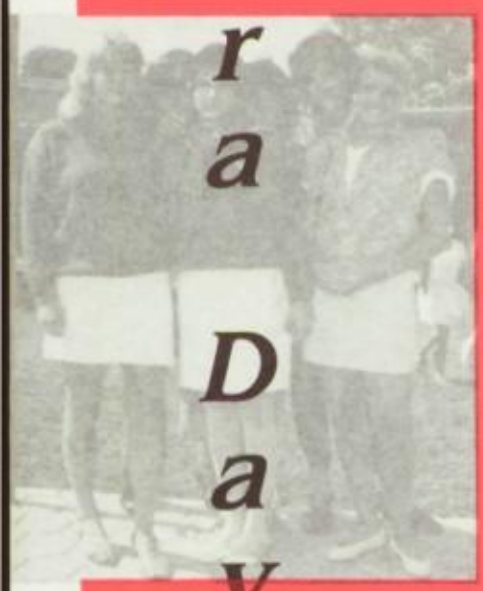
Foreword

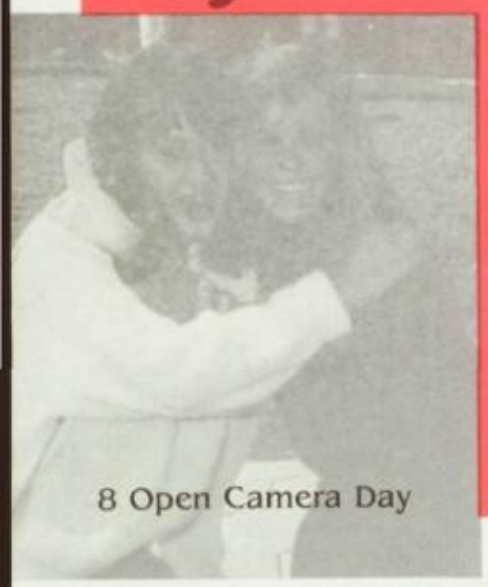
''America's finest students in America's finest city'' — not just an empty phrase, but a reality. San Diego and its suburbs (including El Cajon) is the envy of the entire nation. Where else can you surpass or even equal our spectacular weather, our Zoo, Sea World, Seaport Village, Wild Animal Park, Old Globe Theatre, the beach, and many other outstanding attractions? And where else could you find better teachers, finer students or more attractive educational and extra-curricular opportunities than at ECVHS?

This year, the Legend made the entire county their base of operation as they reveled in the good fortune that all of us enjoy in being associated in ''America's finest school in America's finest city''

Open Camera Day

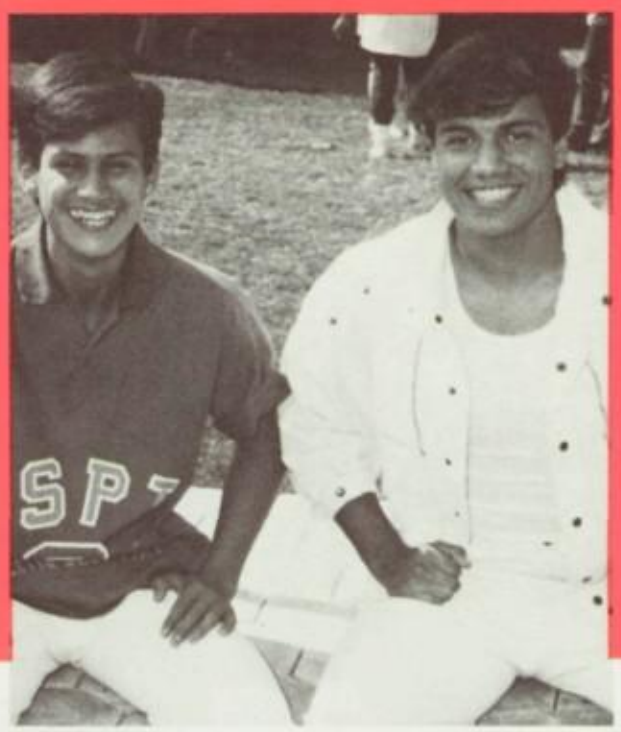


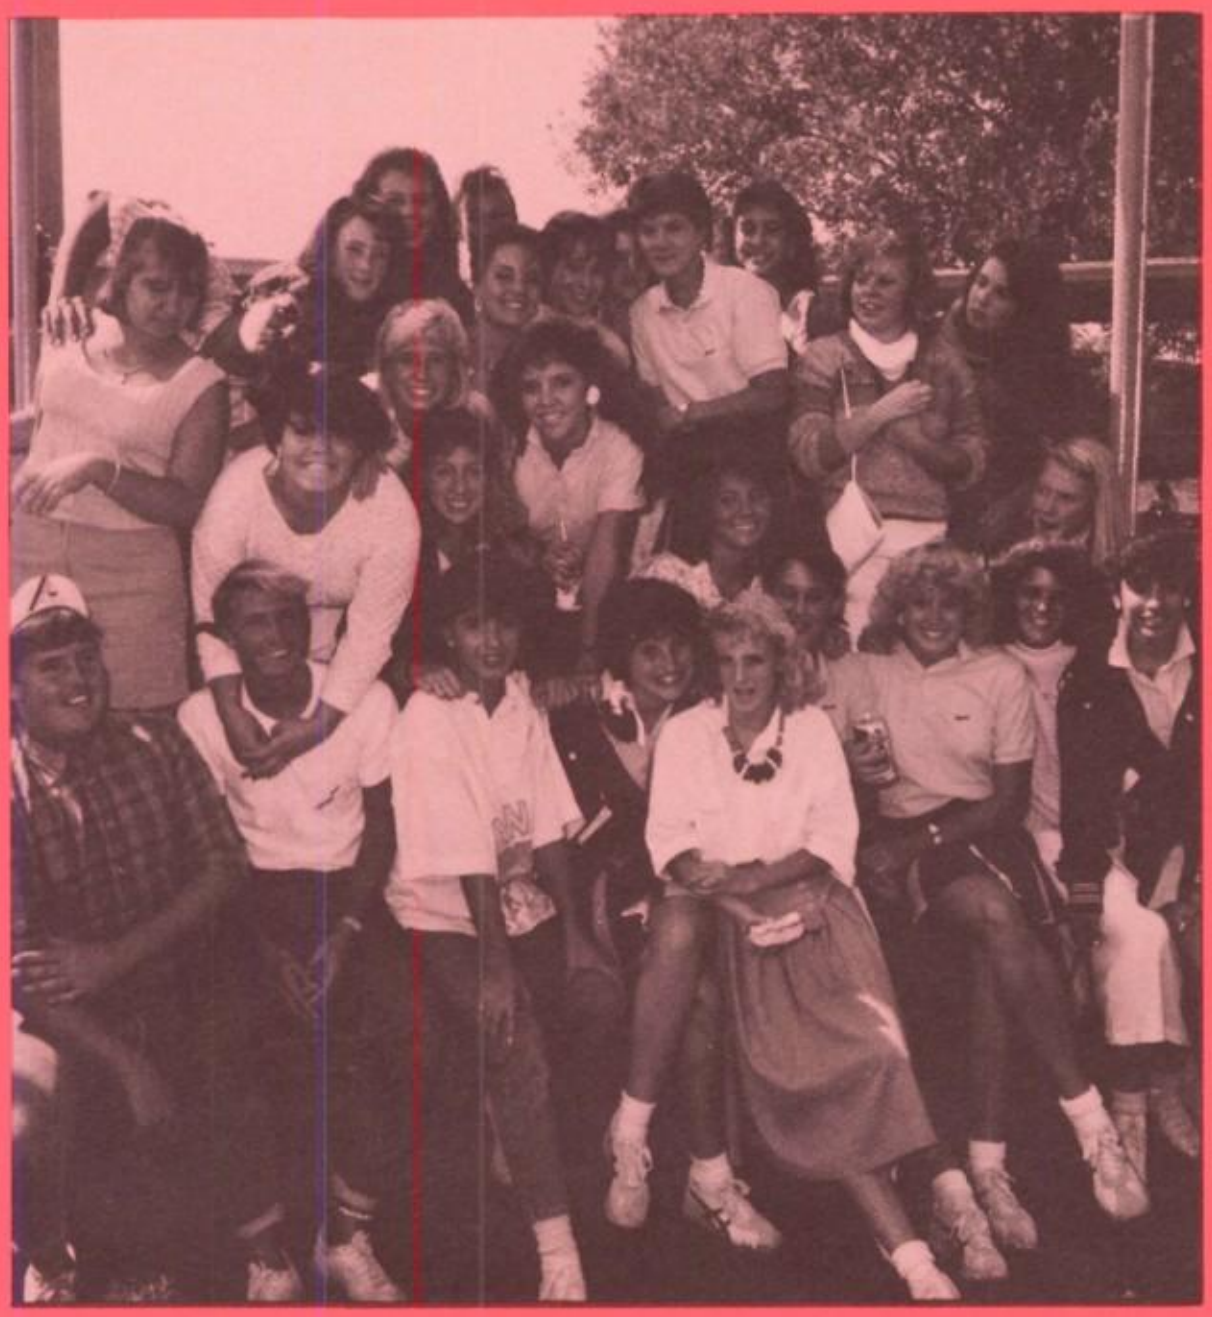




Hey Gang "Say Cheese"!

As Open Camera Day on October 8, 1986 progressed into its second year, new and returning students looked forward to being pictured with their greatest friends. From couples to groups each picture expresses something special about that individual. This layout shows how candid and keen the E.C.V.H.S. student body can be. So as the tradition continues, students can always look forward to one October day, when friends can be wild and crazy in front of the camera.





Open Open Day 9

Advisor John Logsdon

Snap those cameras! Design those layouts! Type that copy! These were just a few of the commands heard around the Legend room. This year's staff set sail to bring you the most memorable events of the 1987 school year. Under the leadership of Carrie Walls and Erin Joslyn, the crew avoided running into rough waters. Their goal was to show you how lucky you are to live in such a fine city.

Catch The

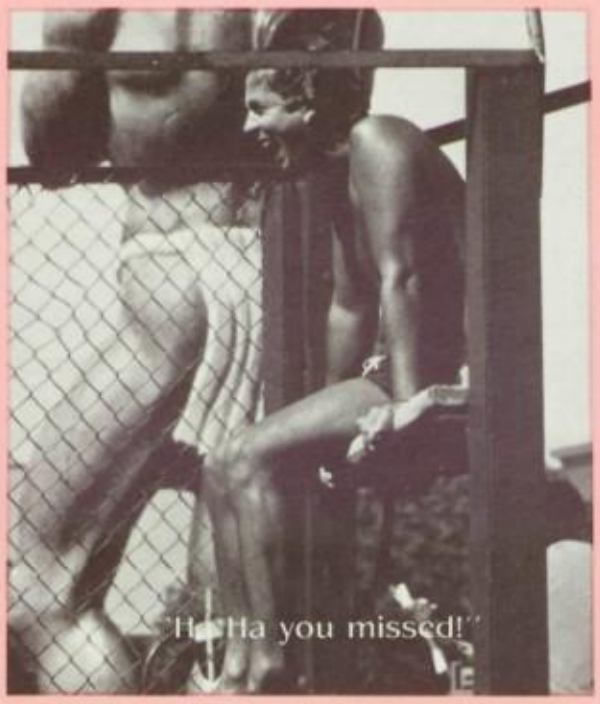
Braves Make Waves

Spirit, enthusiasm, cheers, bands, and assemblies. The Pow Wow described these feelings and events during spirit week, which took place in the first week of school.

The Pow Wow was successfully revived after a 3 year absence with dunk tanks, D.J.s, bake sales, skateboarders, booths, a barbeque and a visit from Shamu.

The week ended with a spirit-filled assembly announcing fall sports, cheerleaders and A.S.B.

"El Cajon, El Cajon, we give praise to you

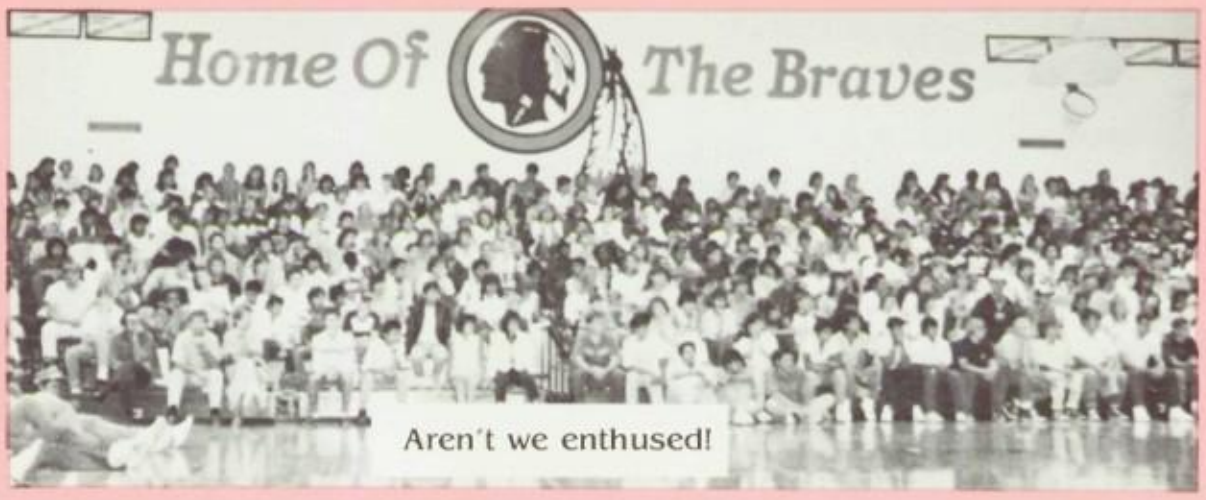


"Ha Ha you missed!"

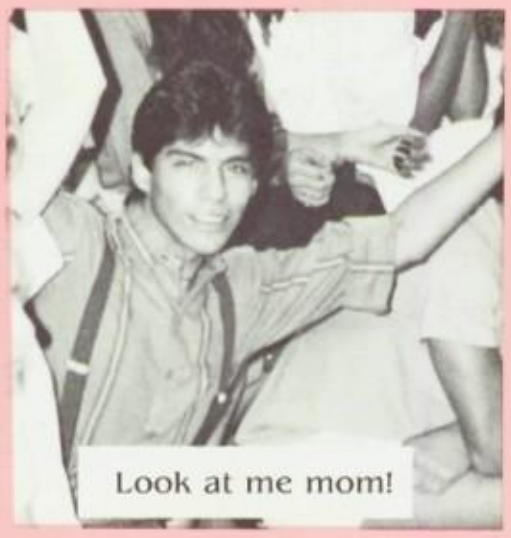
Brave Wave

During Spirit Week!

We're #1

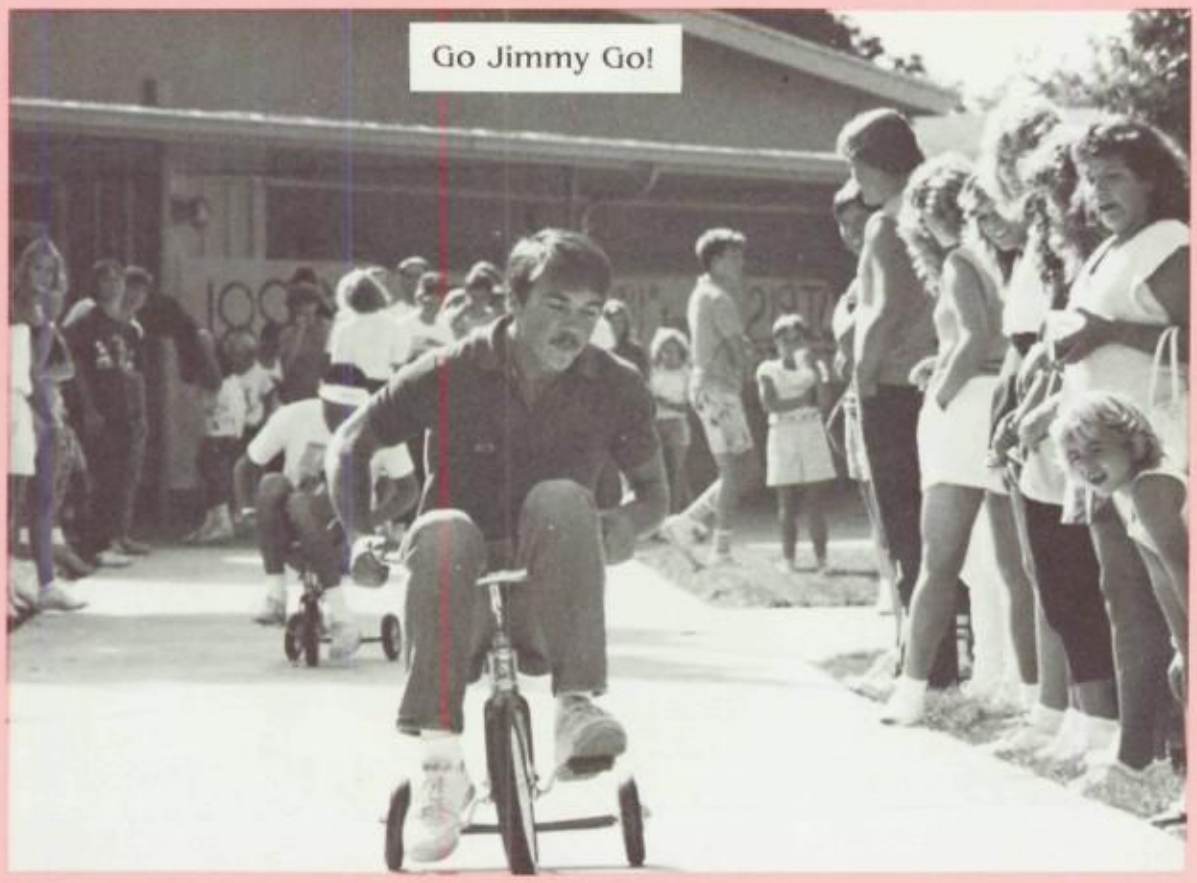


Aren't we enthused!



Look at me mom!

Concentrate!



Go Jimmy Go!

SENIORS

Senior Committees Of '87

"We Couldn't Have Done It Without You!"

Thanks to these committed chairman and their committees, the class of '87's Senior year was a success. Each one of these chairmen, along with their committees, put their time-and energy into creating an exciting year. Samantha Landers and Stacy Turner did an excellent job as the Ways and Means Chairmen, raising money from the Senior parking lot sale and many other fundraisers. In charge of seeing that the Seniors got their rightful privileges were Andrea Clark and Denise Paul, chairmen of Senior Privileges. Prom Chairmen, Erika Grunstad and Jeanie Luizzi took time out during the year to look at possible prom sites, and when prom rolled around they spent much time preparing. Sara Sizemore, Raleigh Evans, and Cindy Proulx, the Senior Activities chairman put together the Senior float for homecoming and organized the Senior Grad trip. Choosing the cards and announcements for graduation was up to Steve Spraggins and Denise Wilhoite. At the end of the year, commencement and baccalaureate was organized by Victor Payan and Julie Carman.

Thanks to the hard work of dedicated individuals, the Class of '87 was the best ever.

Love suffereth long and is kind; love vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up; doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil, rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth; beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things. The "New" Seniors

The sun came up over El Cajon the same time it usually did only to find that ECV's campus had been covered with paper and signs. You guessed it, the "new" seniors gladly took over where the "old" seniors left off. The "seniors"left nothing untouched or uncovered; the quad was covered with papers, the trees were well decorated and the Brave had his fair share of T.P., but the class of '87 had fun showing everyone that they were now the ruling class at ECVHS.

Music played by Stratus kept people dancing to the beat all night, the buffet of food ranged from mini tacos to lobster and filet mignon, a magician walking around doing tricks-the crowning of King Joe and Queen Rhonda all combined to create a superb California Snowball by the ocean.

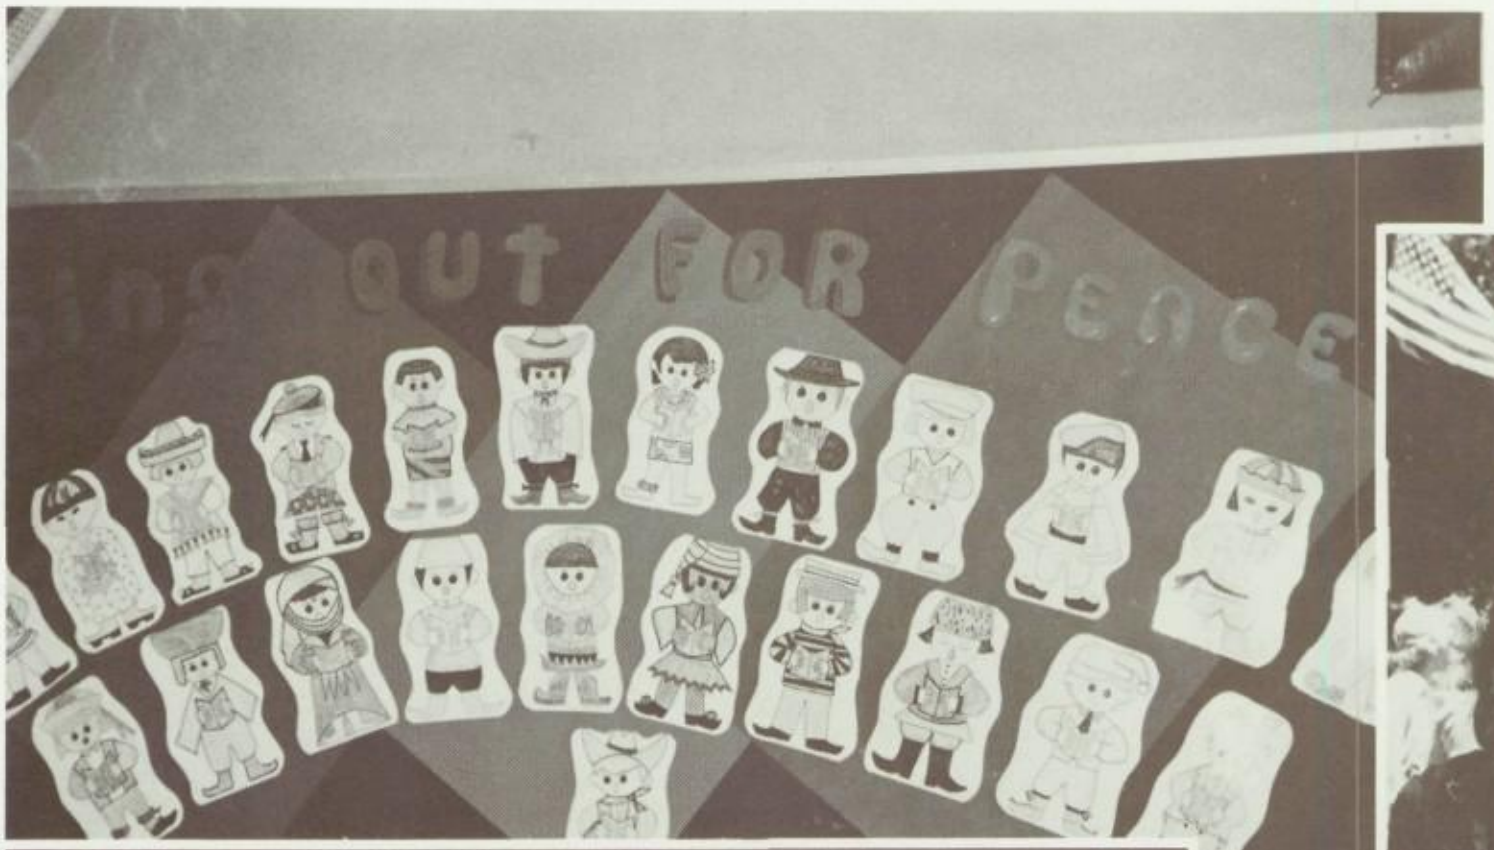
Adding To The



Melting Pot

"A trip around the world that takes less than 7 hours" - that is what Multi-Cultural Day represents. Not only did we see Europe, Asia, North and South America, Middle East and other regions of the world, but we tasted different varieties of food, watched dances that go back thousands of years, and wore many cultural costumes. Students and faculty alike enjoyed and participated in this celebration where East meets West. Unlike other countries, the United States is a combination of cultures. Nowhere could this be better observed than on the ECVHS campus this year during the eleventh annual Multi-Cultural Day.

ASB . . .

A new advisor, a "new" building and new activities all helped to make this year a success for ASB. This year's ASB was lead by President Diane Sisti and everyone on the staff contributed ideas for both new and traditional activities. New advisor, Mr. Al Martinez, contributed much time and effort to the ASB staff and to the school. During the summer the ASB building was painted and the newly-colored structure added pizzaz to the quad. In addition to their usual activities this year, ASB brought back the pow wow and police dances. The students showed their appreciation for the activities by good turnouts at most of the events. The pow wow, which was held on a Saturday in September, provided the opportunity for students to dunk their favorite teacher, eat hamburgers, and participate in many of the races and other activities. ASB planned to have more campus-related activities this year; they did that and more in carrying out their theme: Braves Making New Waves.

A Cut Above The Rest!

It was evident that the 86-87 Varsity Cheer squad was a cut above the rest after they returned from the National Cheerleading Camp with four blue ribbons, one red, a spirit stick and an award for excellence. Led by advisor Emily Barton, the squad, which consisted of 10 girls, 4 guys and the squaw, demonstrated spirit, enthusiasm and professional competence. Participating in both local and state competitions with other cheer squads, and guesting on the Larry Himmel show, Varsity Cheer brought new recognition and honor to ECVHS.

Water Polo

"Balanced Braves Are Making Waves"

El Cajon Valley High became a water polo force as the '86 Braves burst into Grossmont League play with upset after upset. Participation in spring and summer leagues gave valuable experience to the team. Additional honors to the Braves came as Andy Castonguay and Coach Robin Sanchez were chosen to receive Olympic training at Denver, Colorado.

ECV's water polo team fielded a strong starting seven with senior co-captains Joe LeBlanc and Robert Barbosa, juniors Gary Richter and Andy Castonguay, and a promising sophomore, Jason LeBlanc. An exemplary coaching staff led by 4th year head coach Robin Sanchez, JV coach Robert Sheaffer, and swim coach Lisa Fisher along with the dedication and talent of the team gave H_2O Polo a very successful season. A tradition of winning has begun at ECVHS.

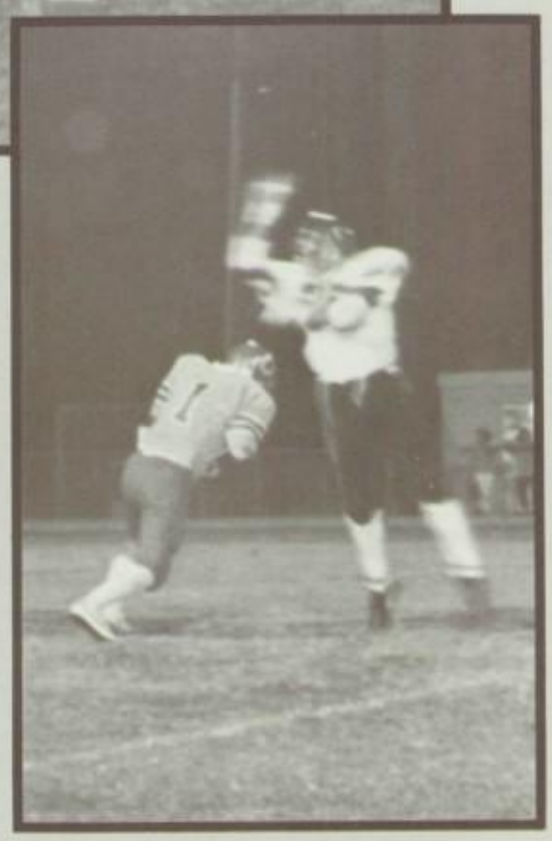
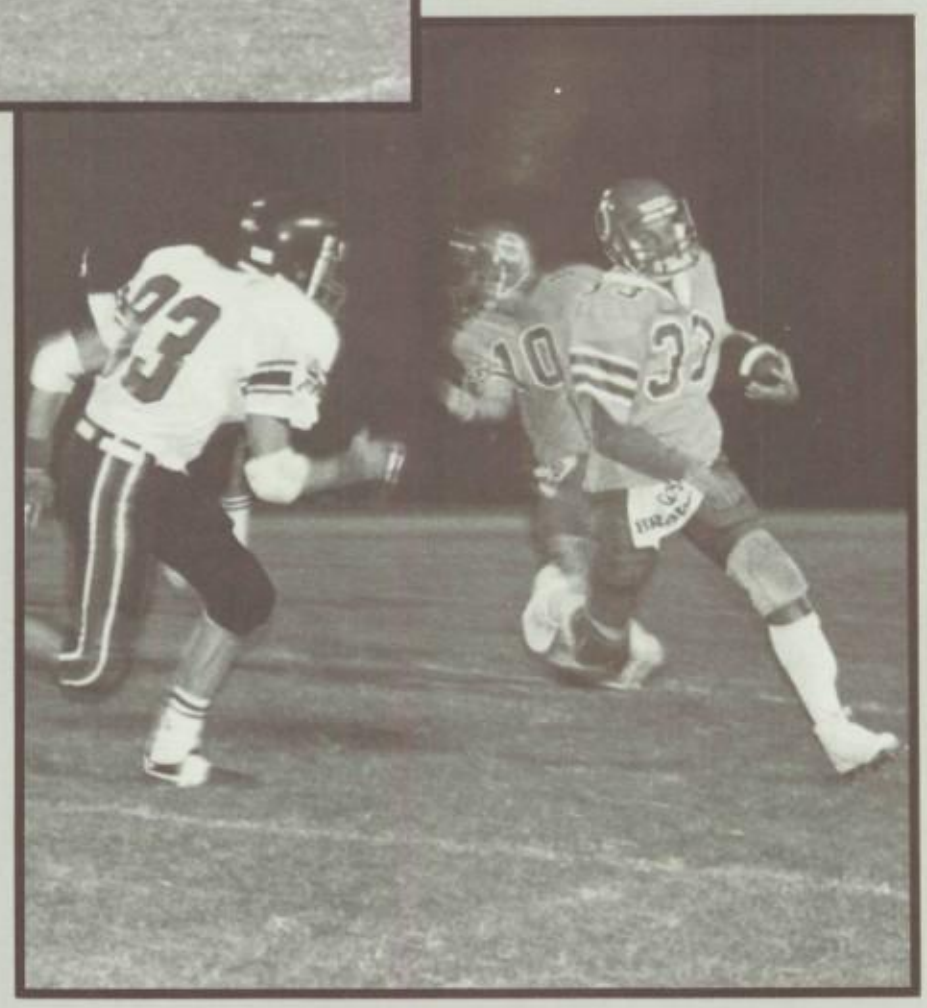
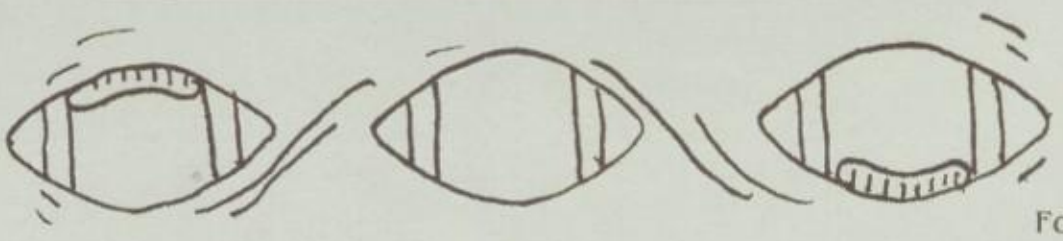
Football







44 Braves Pushing For The Top

Excitement was the key word for the 1986-87 Varsity team. Playing with intensity down to the last second, our Braves never stopped. Several players from the championship J.V. team of last year greatly strengthened this year's Varsity. Stability was provided by Varsity veterans who were even more prepared to fight and win. One of the resulting highpoints of the season came at a 39-0 blowout by the Braves over Marion on the first ever Varsity football game played on our own campus. Forty-four strong and fighting to the end, the Braves pushed for the top.

Spotlights were aimed on the field as they handed each of the top five candidates a different colored balloon. All waited quietly as the box that held the winning color inside was opened. Slowly red balloons floated up to the sky and Jeanie Luizzi and Robert Barbosa became our Homecoming Queen and King for 1986.

Homecoming week began with the selection of the top 10 girl candidates and top 5 guys chosen by the senate. Then the senior class of '87 voted for the top 5 after which a school-wide vote selected the King and Queen. The week was filled with excitement and anticipation, featuring bands during each lunch and concluding with a spirited alumni assembly on Friday.

That night the ECVHS football team battled the Christian High Patriots, with a pre-show of floats and a performance by the Dance Co. At halftime, in addition to the crowning of Queen Jeanie and King Robert, the ECVHS band provided a stirring concert performance. Even Sea World's Shamu showed up to make our 1986 homecoming a truly unforgettable event.

The Best Man For This Job Is A Woman

Faithfully leading the Girls' Athletic Association this year were some very spirited and enthusiastic officers: Shannon Berkshire, Erin Joslyn, Heather Chapman, Sharon Meza, and Katrina Leigh. Advised by Miss Johnston, they worked with dedication to promote the girls' athletic program throughout the year, and at the conclusion of each season, they planned dinner entertainment and the handing out of awards at sports banquets. Said Vice President, Erin Joslyn, "This has been a great year for G.A.A."

New Coach Brings New Spirit To Braves Cross Country

Triathlete, "Iron Man" competitor, and now head coach of the girls' cross country team at E.C.V.H.S., Kirk Madden brought a new spirit to the team this year. The girls' squad, consisting of team captain Michelle Bryant and five freshmen runners, had a successful season highlighted by an early victory over Mt. Miguel. Freshman runner, Janet Hanna gave her all and usually finished in the top three.

The boys' team, under head coach Wendell Maize, began with a victory over Grossmont, while the JV team defeated both Grossmont and Mt. Miguel. Tom Hart consistently finished with the leaders, helping the team to have a great season.

Many close and exciting matches entertained the spectators throughout the season.

"Much improved" described this year's JV volleyball team according to Coach Jim Wolf. They started their season with only ten players, but won many of their season games and placed in the top half of the league standings. In an early tournament held at Christian High School the team finished in an encouraging fourth place. One of the most promising players for the future was setter Keiko Ikeda. Adding strength and talent to the team was Consuelo Cazarez, who joined the team late.

Led by established wrestlers Senior Doug Sailors and Junior Ron Shrin, ECV's Wrestling team this year was one to be respected. Other strong showings were made by Rodrigo Vargas, Ron Johnson, and Don Johnson who did exceptionally well as first year Varsity wrestlers. Coach Jim Minor and Assistant Coach Tom Helm guided the team which seemed to improve with each successive match.

Led by Brian Negrete, Effron Alba, Sonny Holdford, and Javier Lopez, the '86-'87 El Cajon Valley Soccer team gave all their opponents tough battles. As the season progressed, team unity and spirit grew. It was that team unity which surprised the rest of district, for Coach Ted Heinrichs had one of the toughest teams to go against.

Because the Braves' Girls Soccer team was composed primarily of underclassmen, Coach Madden is looking forward to a strong returning squad next year.

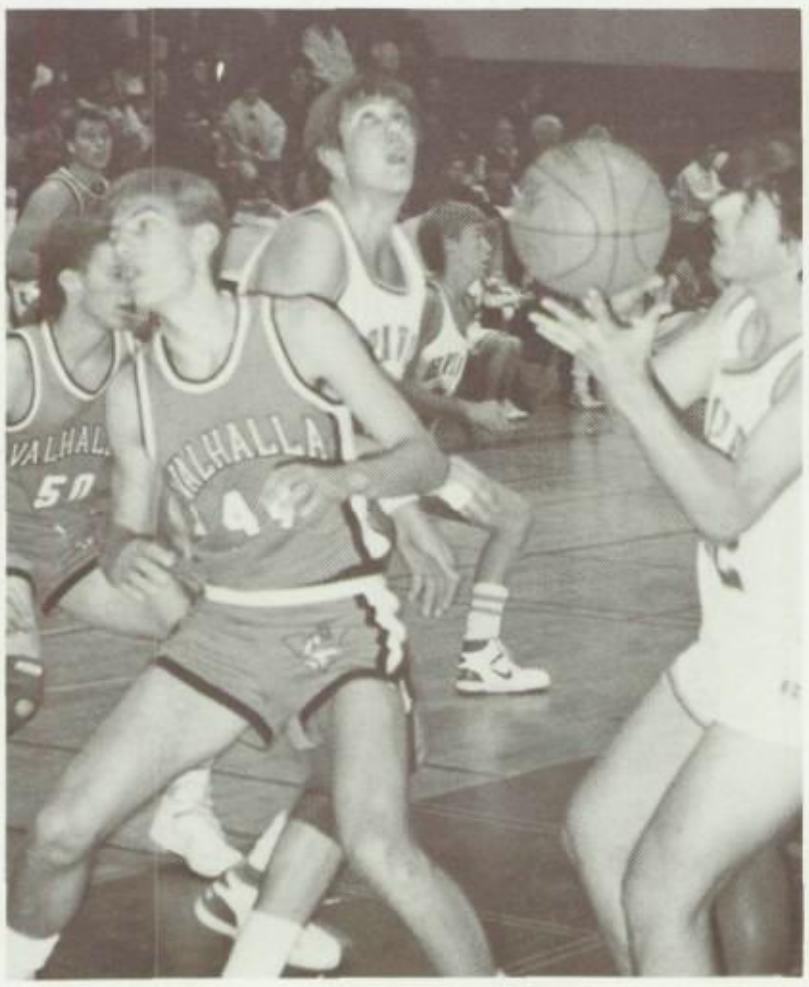
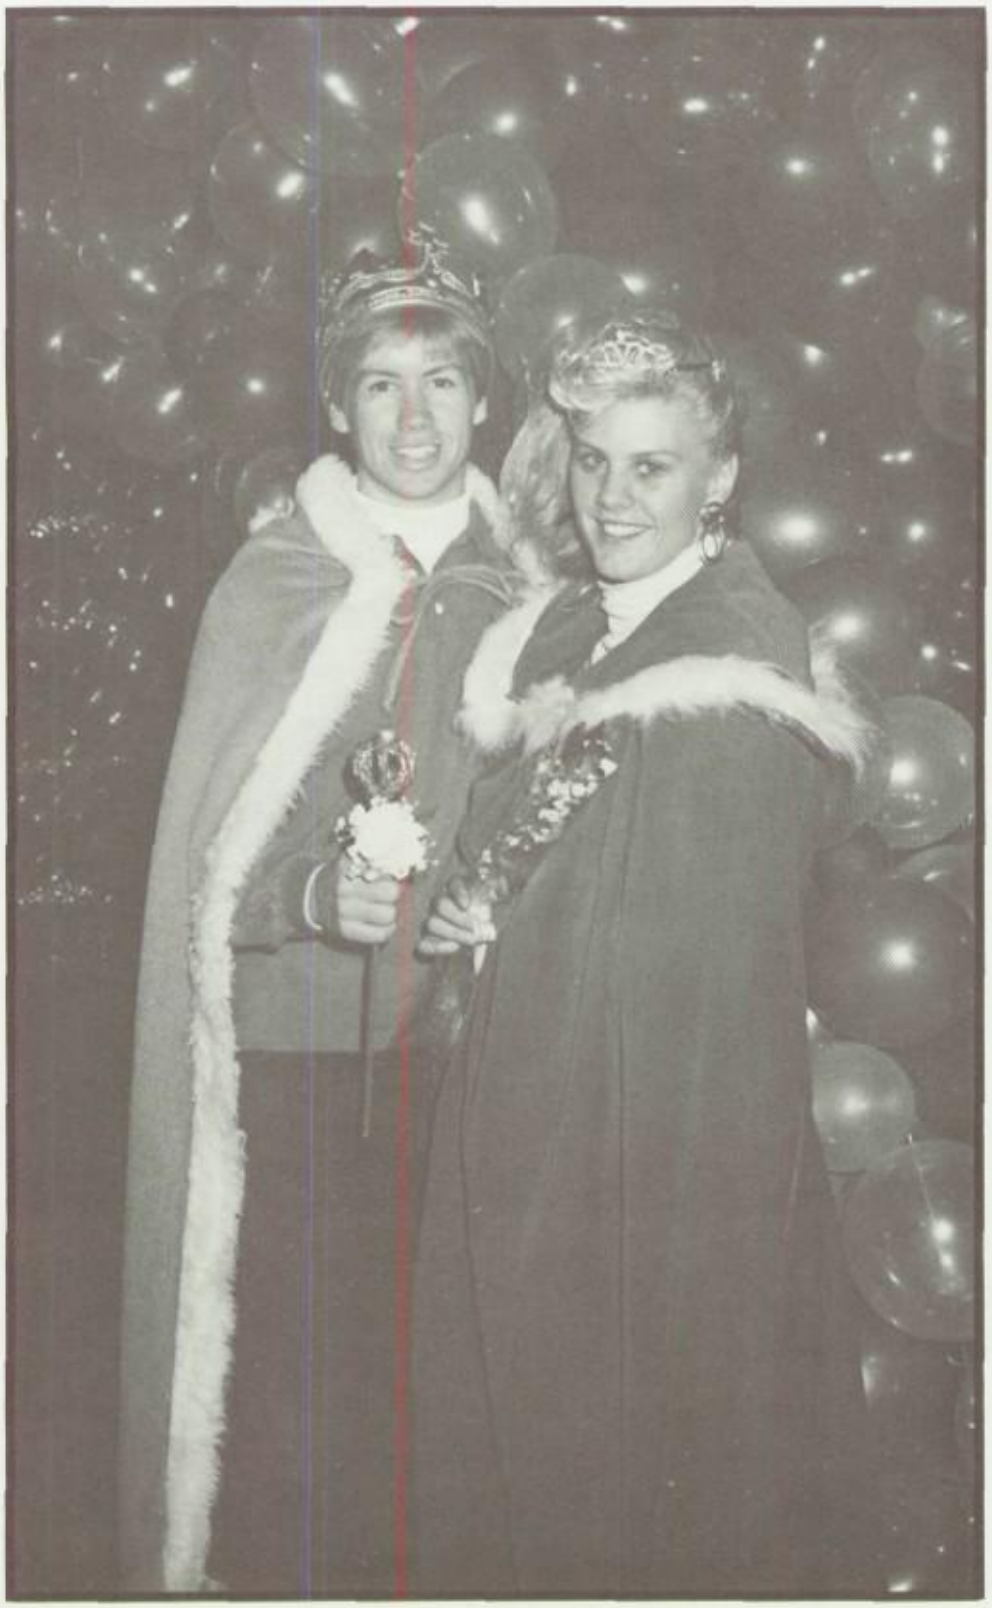
Faculty Rides Again

It was tough competition and although the faculty spent most of their time on the floor they still beat the seniors again this year. The lead went back and forth throughout the game, and it went into double overtime before Mr. Andrews' clutch shot gave the faculty the win by a score of 24-22.

Basketball





On Friday, January 16, ECVHS's basketball fans enjoyed the second annual Basketball Homecoming. Halftime events included a Pepsi chug-a-lug and a pizza-eating contest, in which contestants from our school demolished the most pizza. Spirits soared as our varsity boys won their game. After the game, fans gathered at the homecoming dance for the crowning of the king and queen, Shaun Ellis and Gina Sparks. The members of the court were: Sally Meeter, Geri-Lynn Ayers, Denise Paul, Bridget Harvey, Walley Yeakle, Victor Payan, Danny Piceno and PJ Panebianco.

Assemblies

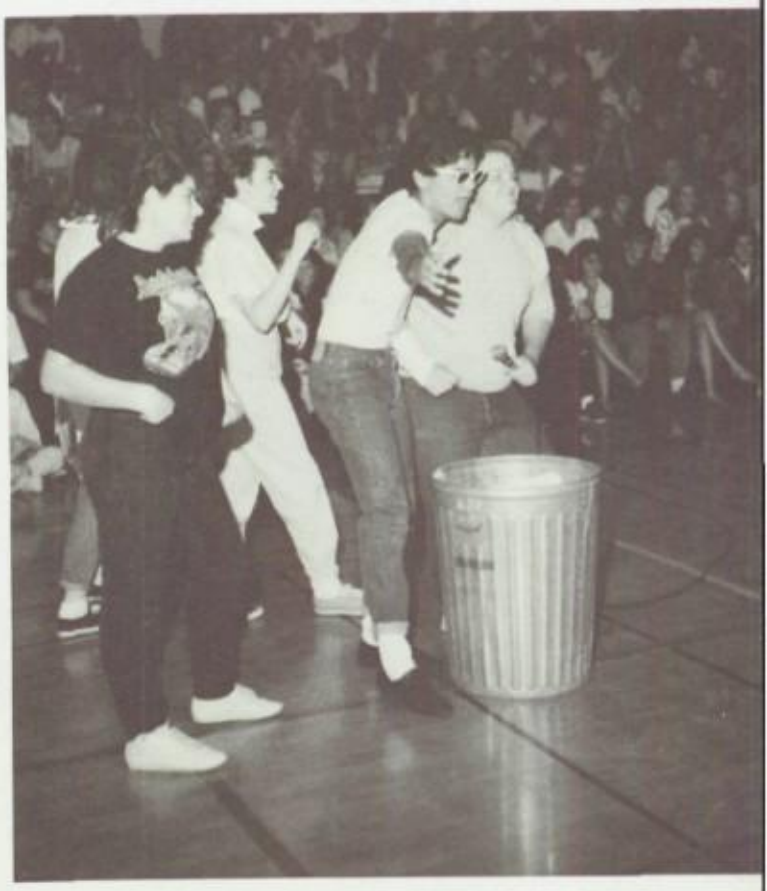
Our Spirit

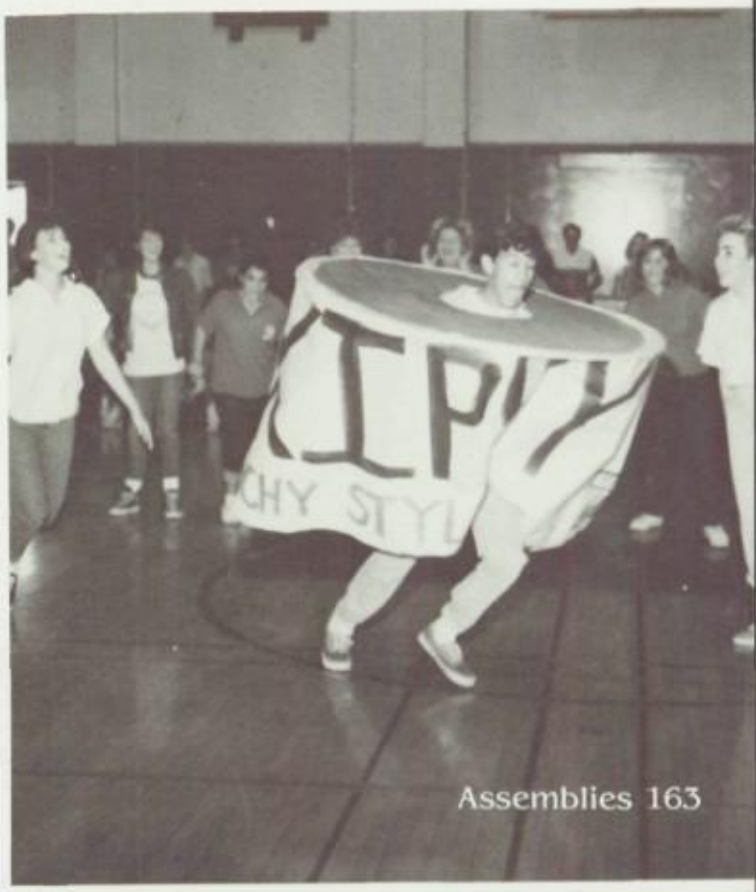
86-87 . . .

Is Sky High!

Go Braves Go was a common phrase yelled during our assemblies by the student body of ECVHS. This spirit helped motivate our students whether they were in a sport or an activity to do their best and make ECV proud.

Some of the assemblies which stood out this year were: The Performing Arts assembly, The Talent Show assembly, and the assemblies for Homecoming, and Basketball Homecoming. "I think school spirit and student involvement this year is greater than in all of my four years of high school, and I love it" Lisa [illegible]key Co-Commissioner of School Spirit.





PERFORMING ARTS

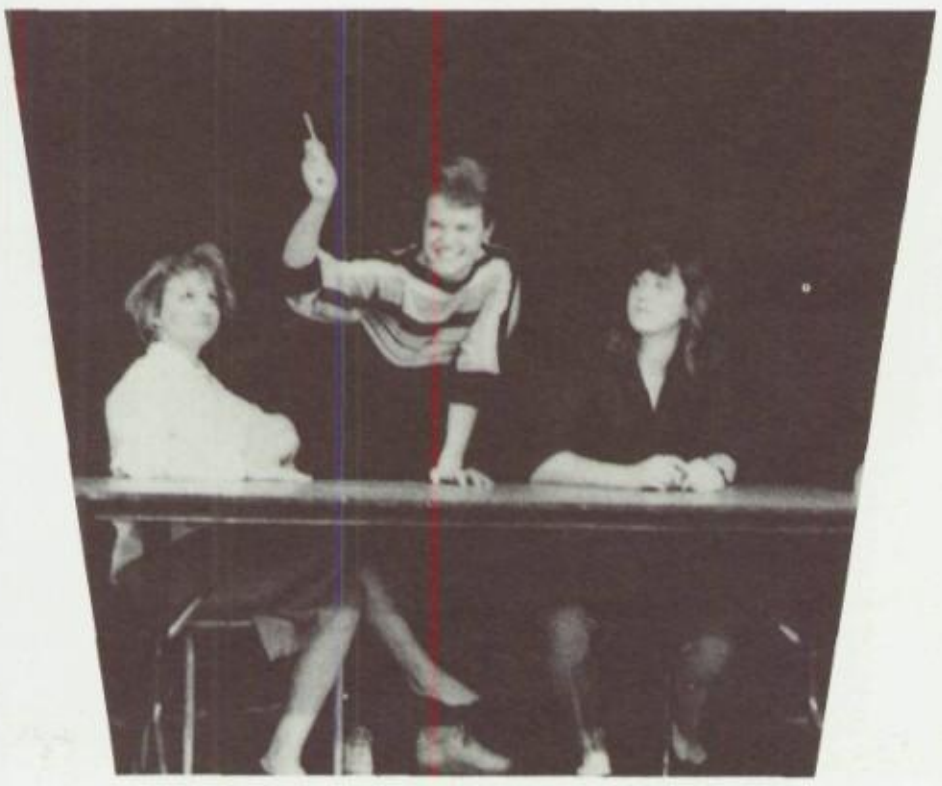
Drama

Lights, Camera, Action! The 1986-87 school year was an exciting and productive one for the drama class of ECVHS. Featured among the favorite performances was the dramatic play, "Twelve Angry Women." This play was an adaptation from the television drama. "Twelve Angry Men" by Reginald Rose. The director of the play, Jim Peace, described the production as "an interesting play with a series of stories within a story." The gripping plot line with its varied characters made the play a big time hit with theater goers.



Sing A Song

DO-RE-MI-FA-SO-LA-TI-DO

Seventy-two voices singing in harmony is wonderful to hear. And at ECVHS this year that is exactly what we heard. Led by director Laurie Taetle the choir excelled in a tough performance schedule of at least nine concerts plus numerous hours of practice. Among the many talented singers in our choir this year a few soloists stood out as especially talented: Shana Jamison, Jennifer Rosengarth, Donovan Wilcox, Terri Dow, Alan Baber, and Ginger Rose.

A Show Of Talent

This year's Vanities was a great success, from Tina Turner to Dr. Ruth. This show could easily be called a talent show because these E.C.V. students were definitly showing their talent. The January performance was a sell-out all three nights that it played. It was said to be the best Vanities since it started, three years ago. It appears that Vanities will become a long-time tradition at E.C.V.

Faculty Follies

Teachers Show They Have Talent Too!

For the fourth year, Faculty Follies was presented in March by sixty to seventy staff members who took time off their busy schedules to rehearse acts and stage a full-length play. The college of acts and scenes were cleverly put together mixing songs, skits, dances, and melodramas. The money raised from this fourth annual performance went to senior scholarships, a student fund, and a sunshine fund for the faculty. Faculty Follies not only showed that teachers can have fun and talent too, but also that they care about the students of El Cajon Valley.

Band And Drill Leaders

Striving For Success

Dedication is not only the key to success but is also a quality that every leader must illustrate. Practices run for hours after school as well as on selected weekends. The leaders, though, must give more of themselves to the team. The numerous responsibilities range from the construction of props to the teaching of specific dance maneuvers and marching techniques.

The most highly rewarded task among these leaders is bringing unity within the team. Friendships must be made because so much time is spent working together. Leaders organize and send out invitations to social gatherings leaving nobody out. This is an important foundation that band and drill leaders must build on to maintain a productive unit.

Leaders must take time, effort, and care into each responsibility but their rewards more than recompense for all the output on their part.

Entertainment At Football Games

Excitement and anticipation was the mood of the crowd at each home football game, as they waited to view the entertainment provided by the E.C.V.H.S. Marching Unit. They were delighted to see a change in style as, directed by Robert Finnin, the unit performed the most difficult field patterns ever attempted by a high school band.

The Specialty Corps also gave crowds another effective surprise. Jazzing up the routine and using more props than ever before, the drill swung to such tunes as "Somba De Orpheus", "Temptation", "Enchanted Kingdom", and "When You Wish Upon A Star" with the help of their new advisor, Pam Larson.

E.C.V.H.S. spectators could look forward to more than a football game; they could also look forward to an artistic halftime performance.

Dance Company

Dance Is The Art Of Expression

They reach for perfection . . . they dance. Modern dance is one of the more expressive and active organizations on our campus. Advised and taught by Kathy Lamb, the dancers put on spectacular performances at school assemblies, the annual dance concert and presentations at nursing homes. This year, in addition to these performances, the Company danced in the Mother Goose Parade. The dancers have brought back the feeling that dance is truly an art.

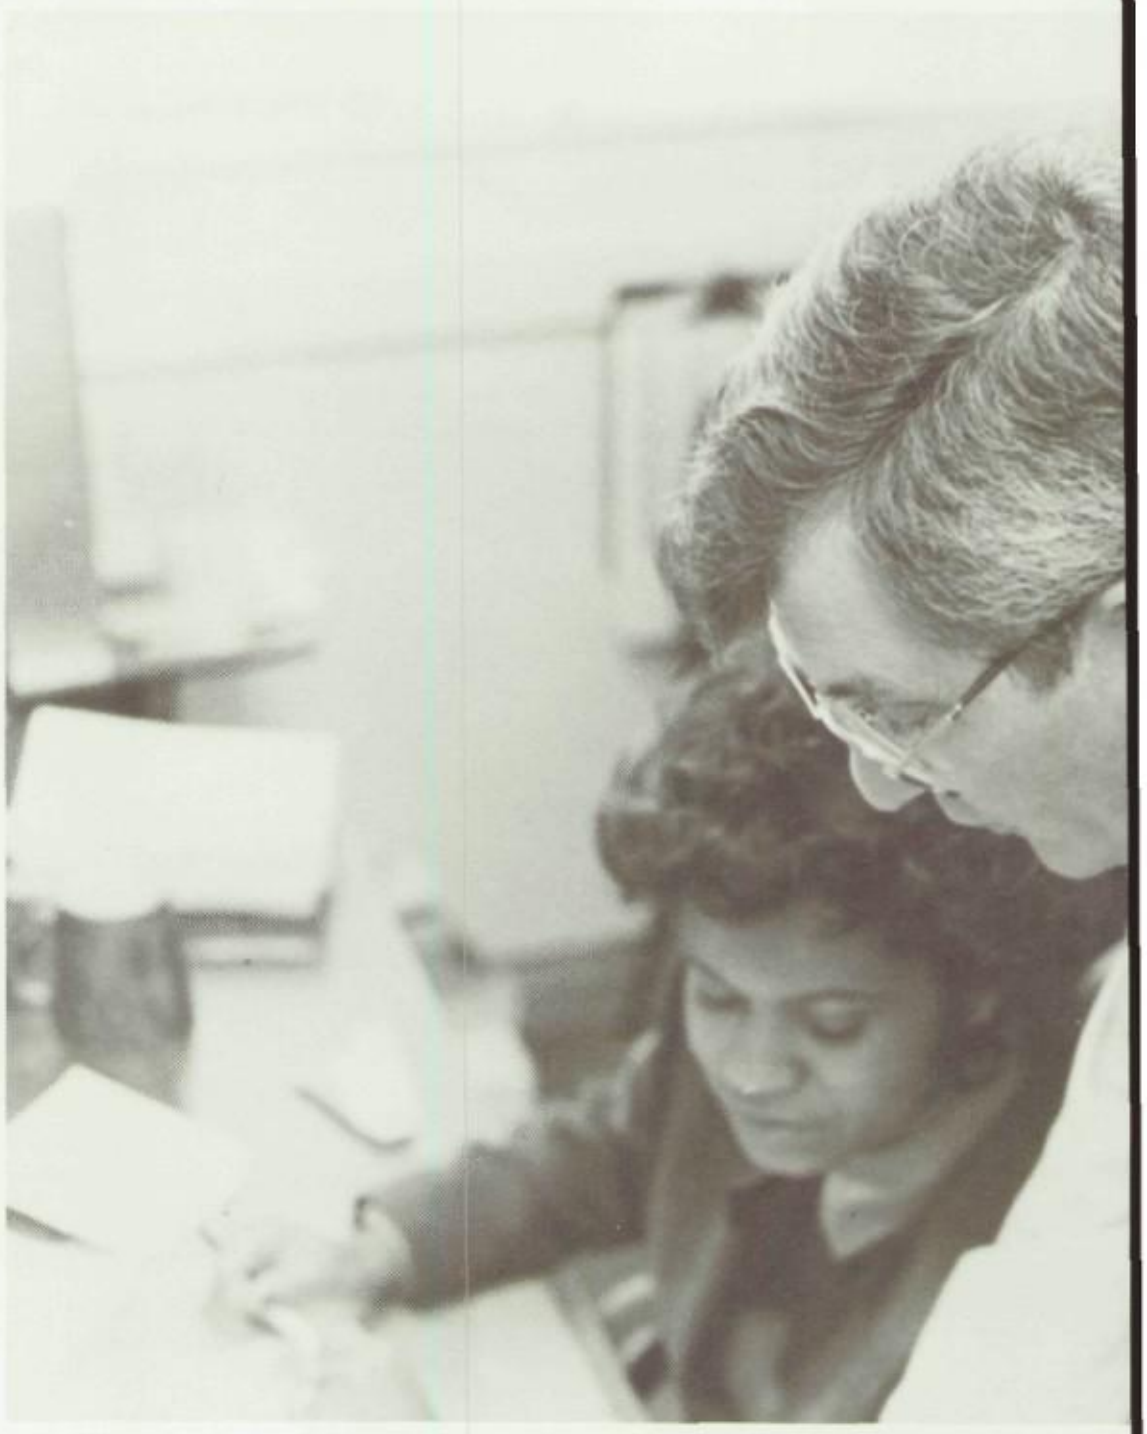
"Ok, Class today were are going to learn . . . " was a common phrase spoken each day by some of America's finest teachers at E.C.V.H.S. These teachers were able to hold serious academic classes for tomorrow's citizens, our students, and in addition display a caring concern towards them. Sixteen new teachers joined the staff this year and continued the tradition of having America's superior teachers educating America's best students in America's finest city.

Couns

It's not what they get out

"The greatest thing about counseling is the super kids you get to meet." James Peace



"I've been here for a long time and the reason is because the people are so nice and down-to-earth. I mean that!" Herb Gross

"Working with students makes this a fun job." Don Halte

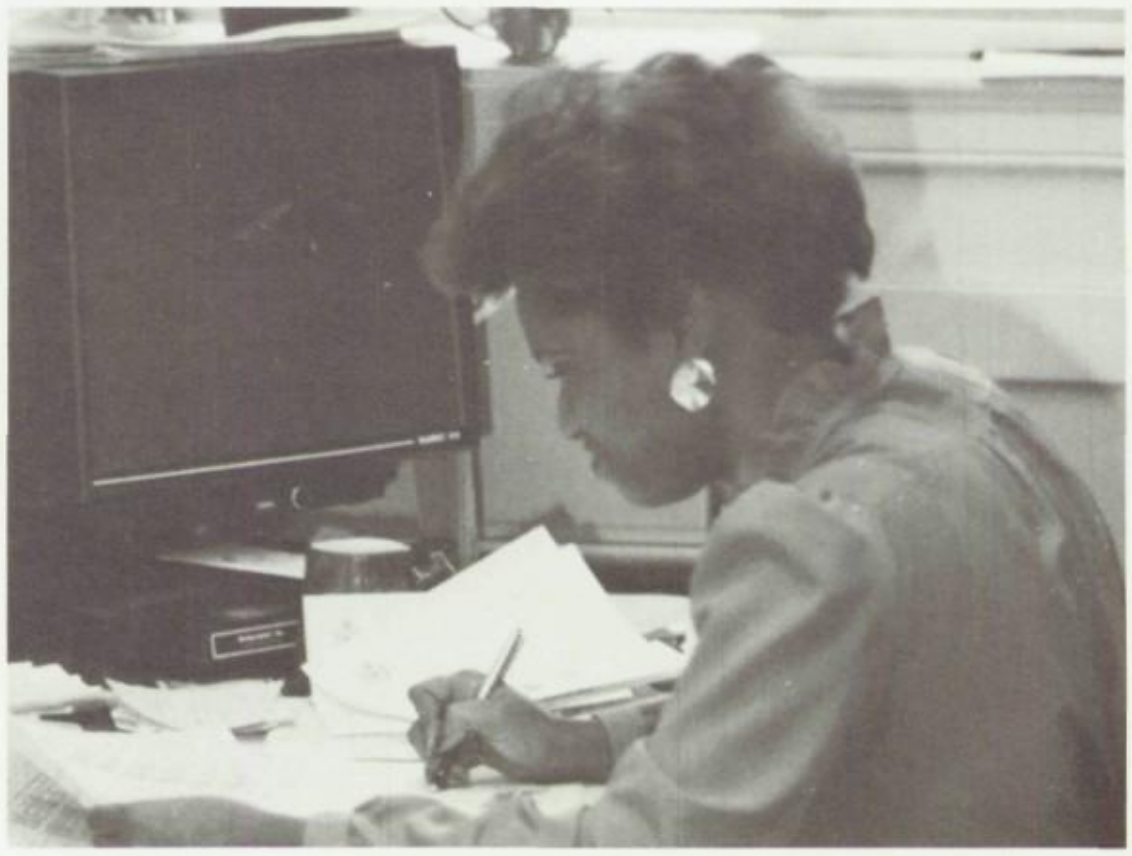
of it but what they give.



Herb Gross, Don Halte, and Dawn Miller were joined this year by new counselor, Patsy Bently-Acrie as the staff handled everything from minor schedule changes to counseling students for college. Until Ms. Bently-Acrie's arrival in November, Mr. Peace provided invaluable volunteer service to keep the department running smoothly.

The main goal set by counselors this year was to help "high risk students" succeed. By setting such a goal the counselors hoped to keep more kids in school and out of trouble.

"I hope to make a difference in the school, to promote school spirit and enthusiasm. I just want to be there for the students." Patsy Bently-Acrie

"My goal as a counselor is for students to raise their expectations for themselves so that they become more than they ever dreamed they could." Dawn Miller

Administration

"El Cajon says NO to drugs!"

El Cajon Valley was the focus of much media coverage this year due to the "drug hotline" set up by Mr. Art Pegas. The hotline provided the chance for students to report users and pushers. Mr. Pegas' goal was to have a "drug free school".

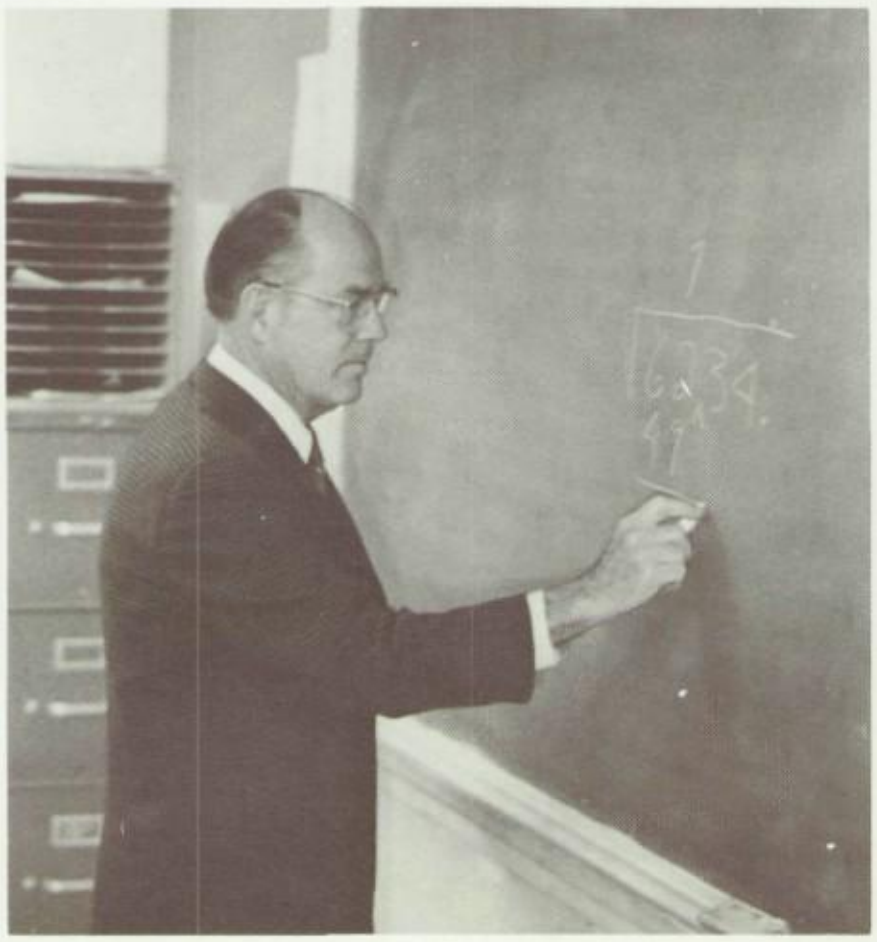
El Cajon Valley was also chosen this year as a Model Site School, one of only 8 in the state. This is a program designed to improve student performance. Mr. Pegas set up a committee to appropriate funds from the Model Site Program.

Along with the changes, administration continued to implement last year's goals. Senior CAP score improvement, and a clean campus were once again emphasized.

Mrs. Terrie Pennock- Administrative Coordinator

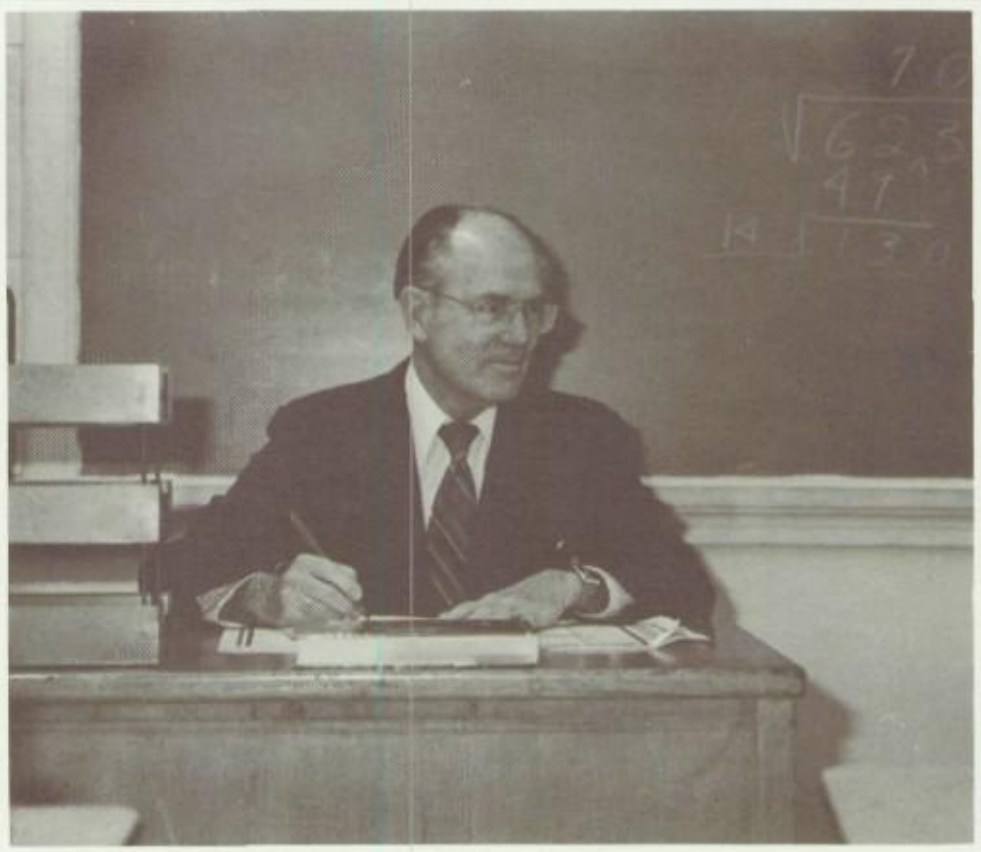
FAREWELL

Mr. Holk



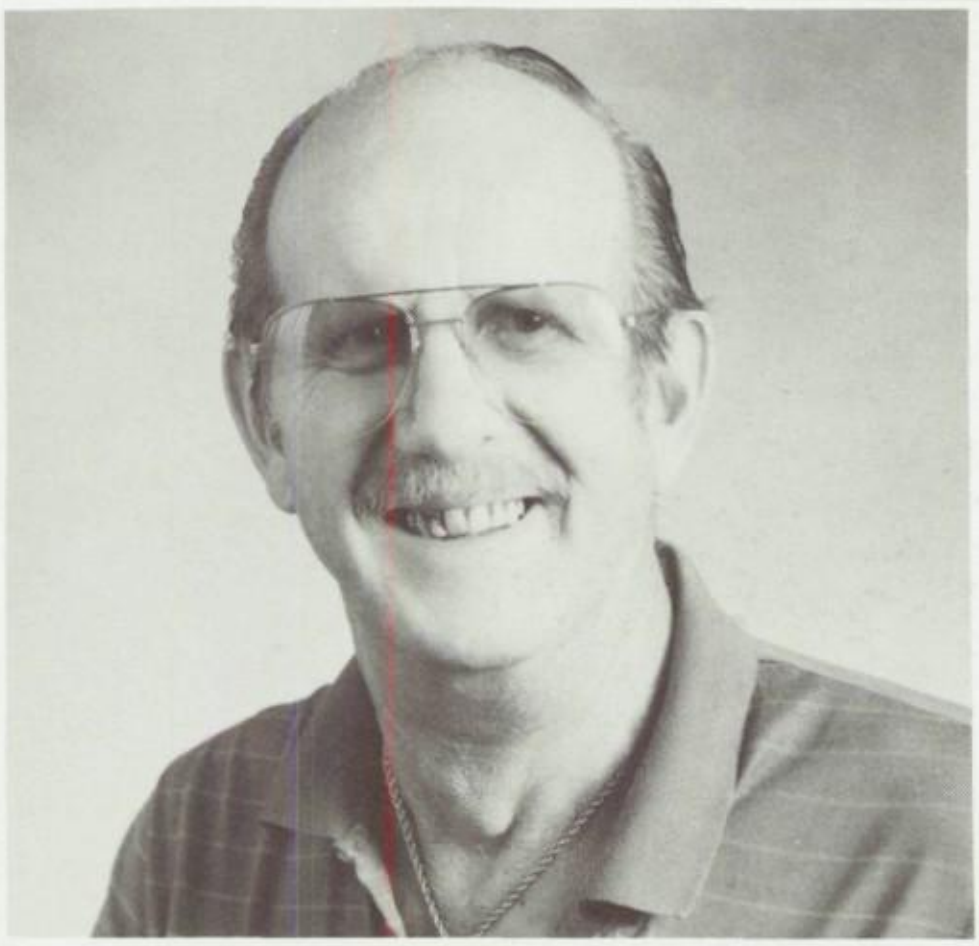
From my first day at E.C.V.H.S, until my last, I have seen the addition of new programs and innovations. I miss a lot of friends gathered over the years, plus the good memories, but there have always been pleasant replacements. My greatest success has been the happiness that I have felt working with young people and pleasant colleagues. The students are still friendly as always, though I have detected a lack of self-discipline and a real desire to excel in recent years. Now that I'm at the end of the great years here, my future plans are to travel to my parents' homeland in Denmark and my wife's in Norway. Thanks for the memories.

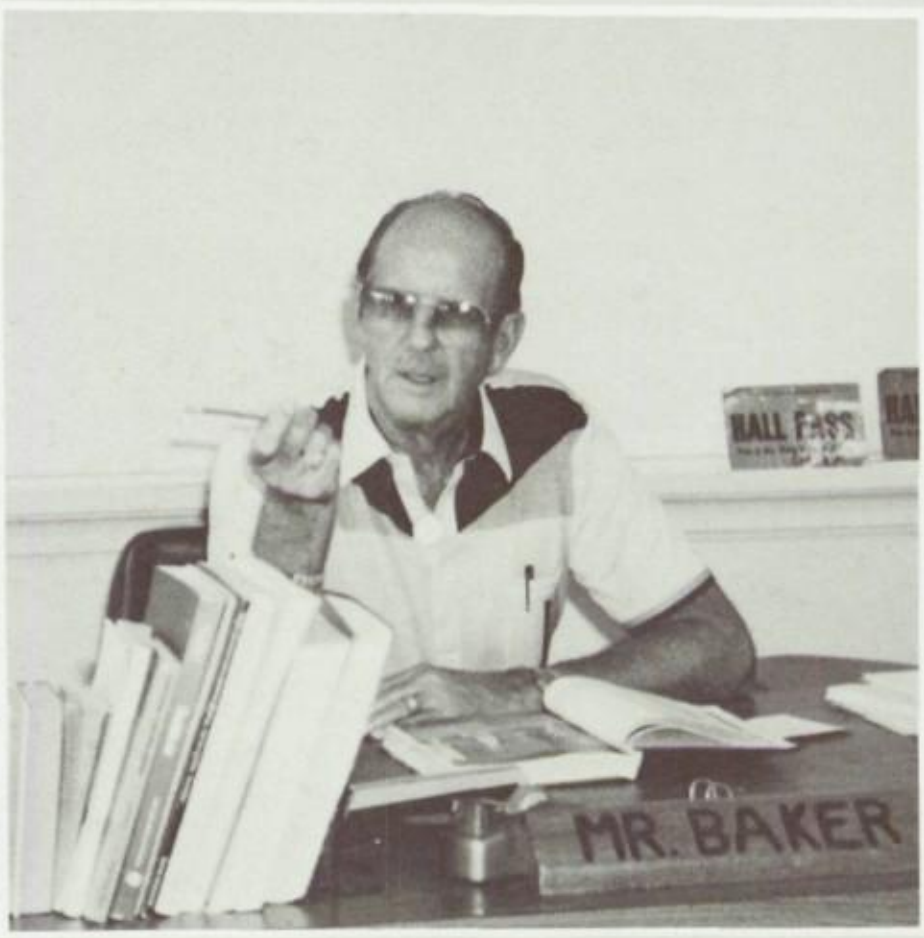
Erwin Holk



RETIREES

MR. BAKER





These 16 years at E.C.V.H.S. have been the busiest and most rewarding of my life. I remember as advisor to Girls' League all the hectic preparation that went into annual events like the Snowball Dance, the fashion show, the Homecoming Tea, "Faculty Night Out", and Mardi Gras.

Then there were the eight years as ASB advisor. Who could ever forget those eight frantic homecomings? The three years as cheer advisor gave me a few additional gray hairs, but I am none the worse for wear.

Thank you students and staff for these wonderful 16 years. It has been a ball.

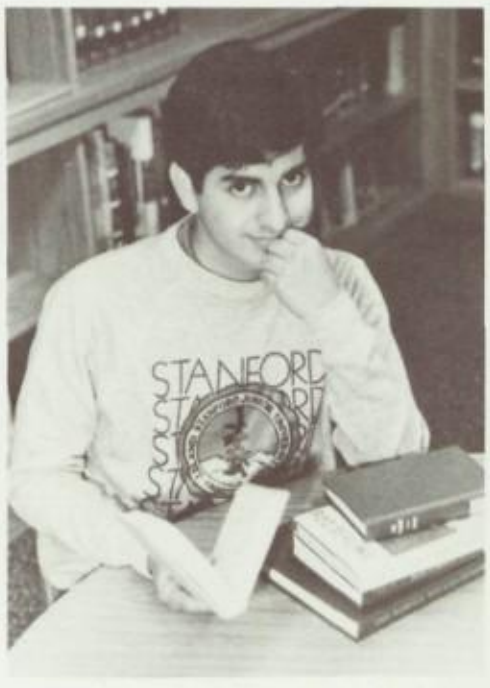
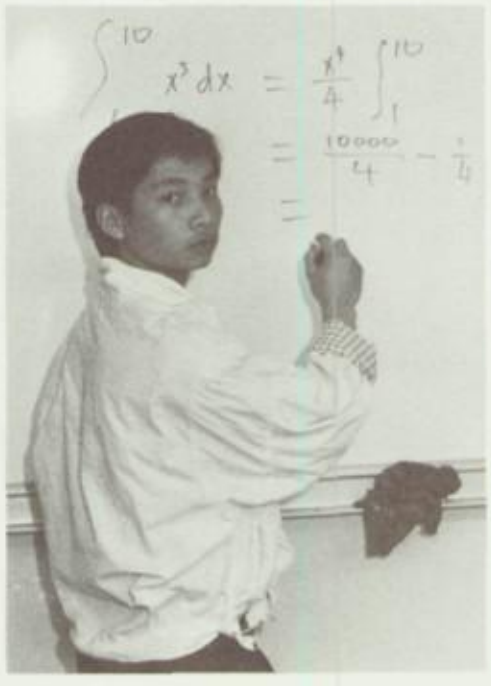
Beginning Of A New Decade

Archana Jaiswal-Science: "Archana excels in every aspect of Biology. She goes beyond what is required and shows a genuine interest in the class, besides the A+ she received"



Victor Payan-English: "Victor is one of the most talented writers to ever attend E.C.V.H.S. His natural abilities blend harmoniously with his interests resulting in perceptive analytical essays for Advanced Placement English and insightful editorials for the 'Smoke Signal'. All four years at El Cajon Victor has written for 'Thought Magazine', contributing many of its best poems and short stories."



Son Nguyen-Math: "Son is taking calculus and has performed well on the math team. He possesses the insight necessary for original thinking."

John Osterloh-Computer Programming: "John is a very clever and creative programmer. He has the ability to adapt the computer for problem solving and is an excellent simulator."

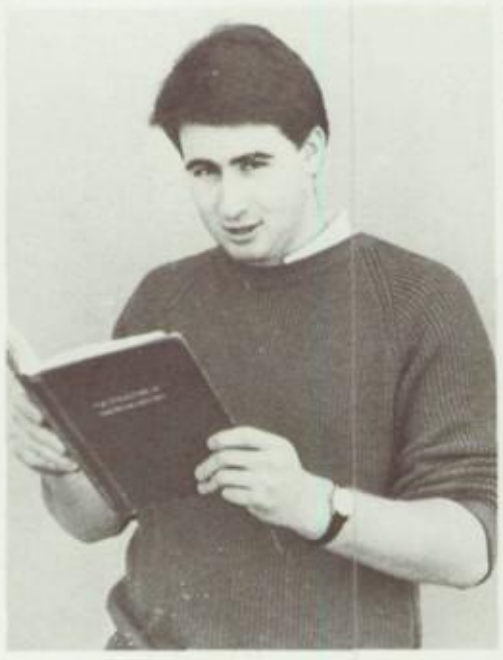
Students

Here are the most outstanding students for the 1986-'87 school year. These students have earned their place in the Legend by hard work and dedication to their subject. The students chosen for this are students who achieve goals and do more than is required of them.

Anna Hanna-Foreign Language: "Anna has mastered English as her second language; her native tongue is Arabic. As a third year Spanish student, Anna already speaks with the fluidity and ease close to that of a native speaker. This is quite a linguistic accomplishment."

Alex Campbell-Social Science: "Alex always does high quality work on class assignments, both written and oral. In class discussions he is insightful and is able to perceive all sides of an issue. Alex is a natural leader and a real asset to Social Science classes."

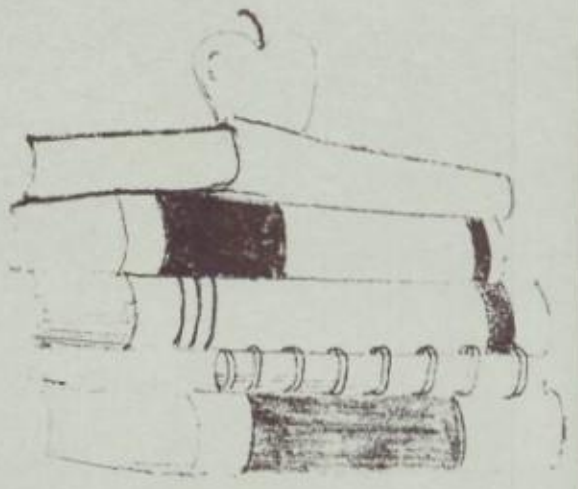
Christina Benson-Business Education: "Christina has taken typing, shorthand, and business skills. She has a 4.0 in all her business classes. Chris exemplifies the qualities necessary to make an outstanding contribution in all her endeavors."



Ahn Pham-Bilingual: "During the past five years, Ahn has not only learned to speak, read, and write the English language but she has also enrolled in a full academic program. She has a 3.8 GPA and graduated in the top 10 of her class."

Roy Bennett-Home Economics: "Roy is an outstanding home economics student. Besides doing his own work, he exhibits leadership ability in the classroom, which in turn helps his fellow classmates."

Mike Jones-Industrial Arts: "Mike is a self-motivated and well mannered student in industrial arts. He repairs district equipment and is an excellent arc welder and fitter."



Who Excel

Andrea Pinell-Art: "Andrea is an outstanding art student who specializes in realism. She enjoys pen and ink, and has been an A art student throughout her high school years. Andrea plans to go to college and continue with her art education."

Kimberly Klein-Girls' P.E.: "Kim has been an outstanding student in P.E. since her entrance to E.C.V.H.S. She excels in all she attempts, and makes this excellence possible through continuing effort and a very positive attitude."

Shaun Ellis-Boys' P.E.: "Shaun has not missed a single day and he has a straight A in the class. He works well with others in the class."

Juan Caballero-Performing Arts: "Juan is an outstanding drama student. He has been in many school plays and other productions."

Have you ever been in the U.S. before?
- No. This is the first time.

Is California like you expected it to be?
- Yes, but I have not been able to enjoy it to the fullest yet.

How do you like going to school here?
- I like it very much, especially the fact that here students have more choices for classes.

Have you been to other countries on exchange?
- I've been to Italy, Germany, and Switzerland, but only for vacation.

What is your favorite class?
- Chorus

What have you enjoyed most about your stay here?

What program are you with?
- A.I.F.S.

Have you ever been in the U.S. before?
- No, it's the first time.

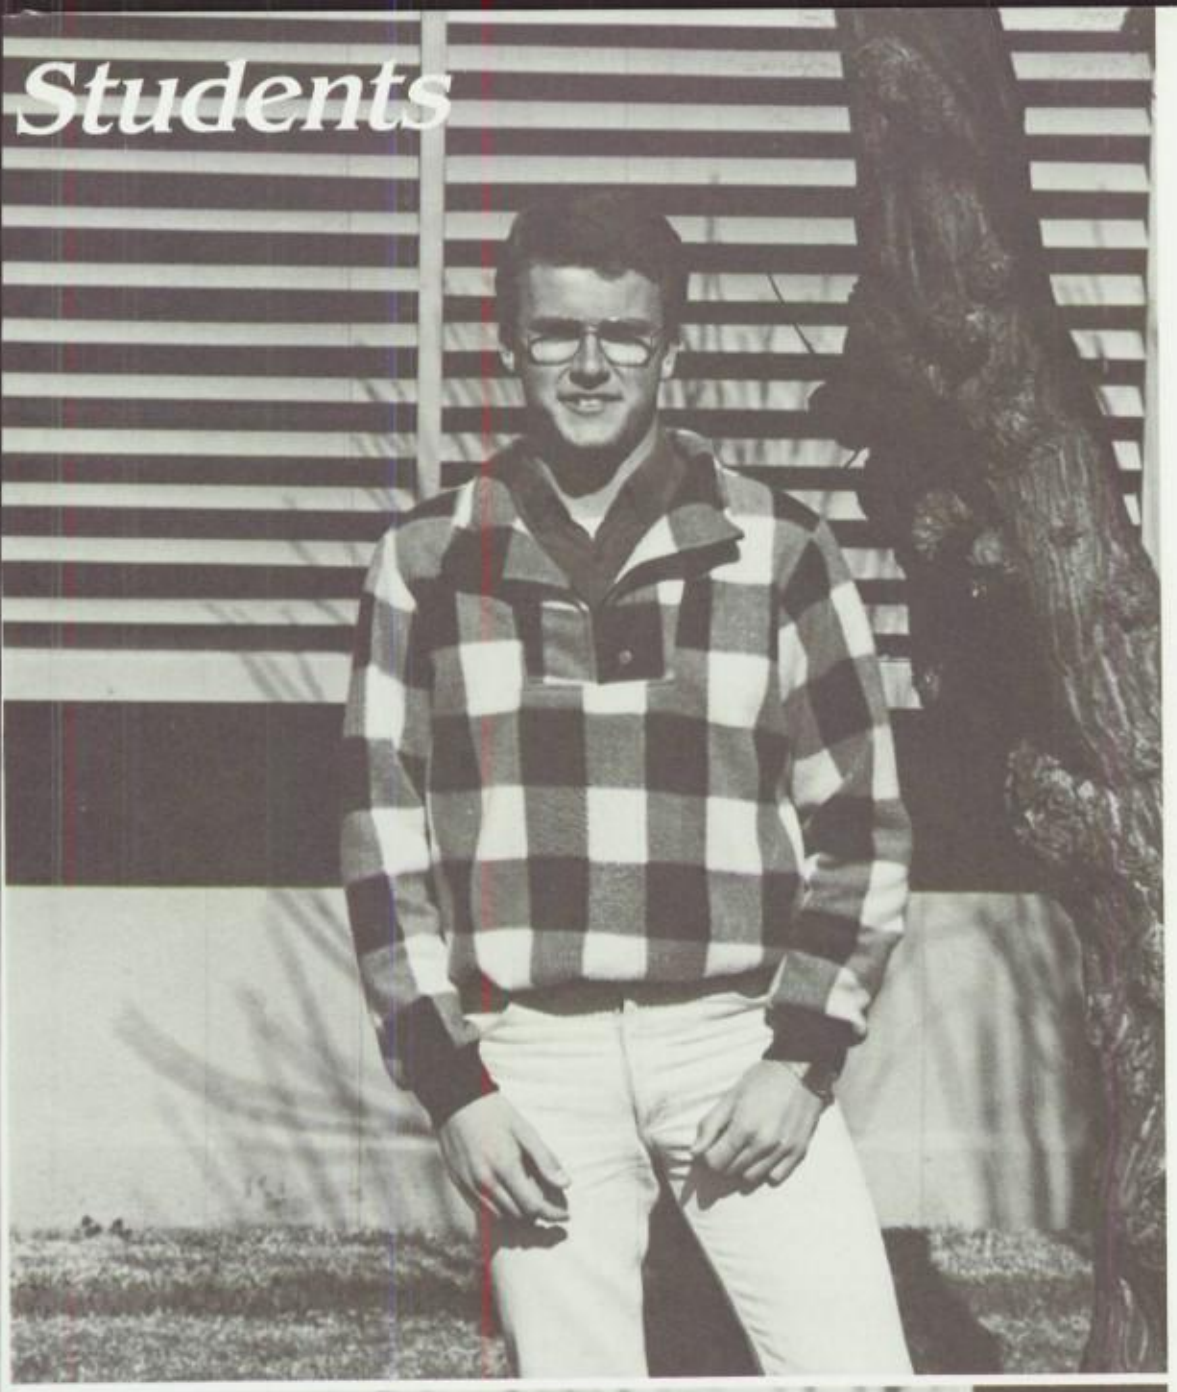
Is California like you expected it to be?
- More or less. Everyone thinks of California as what you see at the movies. I had to go to a lot of meetings before coming here and they tell you about school and the rest of the boring stuff, so I never expected it to be like all day at the beach and gorgeous guys.

How do you like going to school here?
- I don't like going to school anywhere, but at least here you have more things to choose, and other things to do after school. It's more fun.

Have you been to other countries on exchange?
- I've been to Ireland on exchange for a month (two summers, one month each)

What is your favorite class?
- Math and English

What have you enjoyed most about your stay here?
- I enjoyed Christmas, Thanksgiving dinner (mmm . .), going to Disneyland, Seaworld and other places, and I really like the beaches here.



Bernd Koehler West Germany

What program are you with?
- AFS International/Intercultural programs

Have you ever been in the U.S. before?
- Unfortunately not.

Is California like you expected it to be?
- Mostly yes, although I didn't expect to have mountains this size around San Diego.

How do you like going to school here?
- It is different, but somehow I like it better.
Most of all, the leaders are friendlier and a lot more helpful.

Have you been to other countries on exchange?
- Yes; To France (1 month) and England (1 month).

What is your favorite class?
- Hard to say. I like all my classes - maybe history and biology.

What have you enjoyed most about your stay here?
- not having snow in the winter (I hate when it is cold), having a superb family, finding a lot of new friends, . . . - practically everything I did.

Ai Takada Japan

What program are you with?
- C.H.I.- Cultural Homestay Institutional

Have you ever been in the U.S. before?
- No

Chorus, E.S.L.

What have you enjoyed most about your stay here?
- Meeting new people, and going new places.

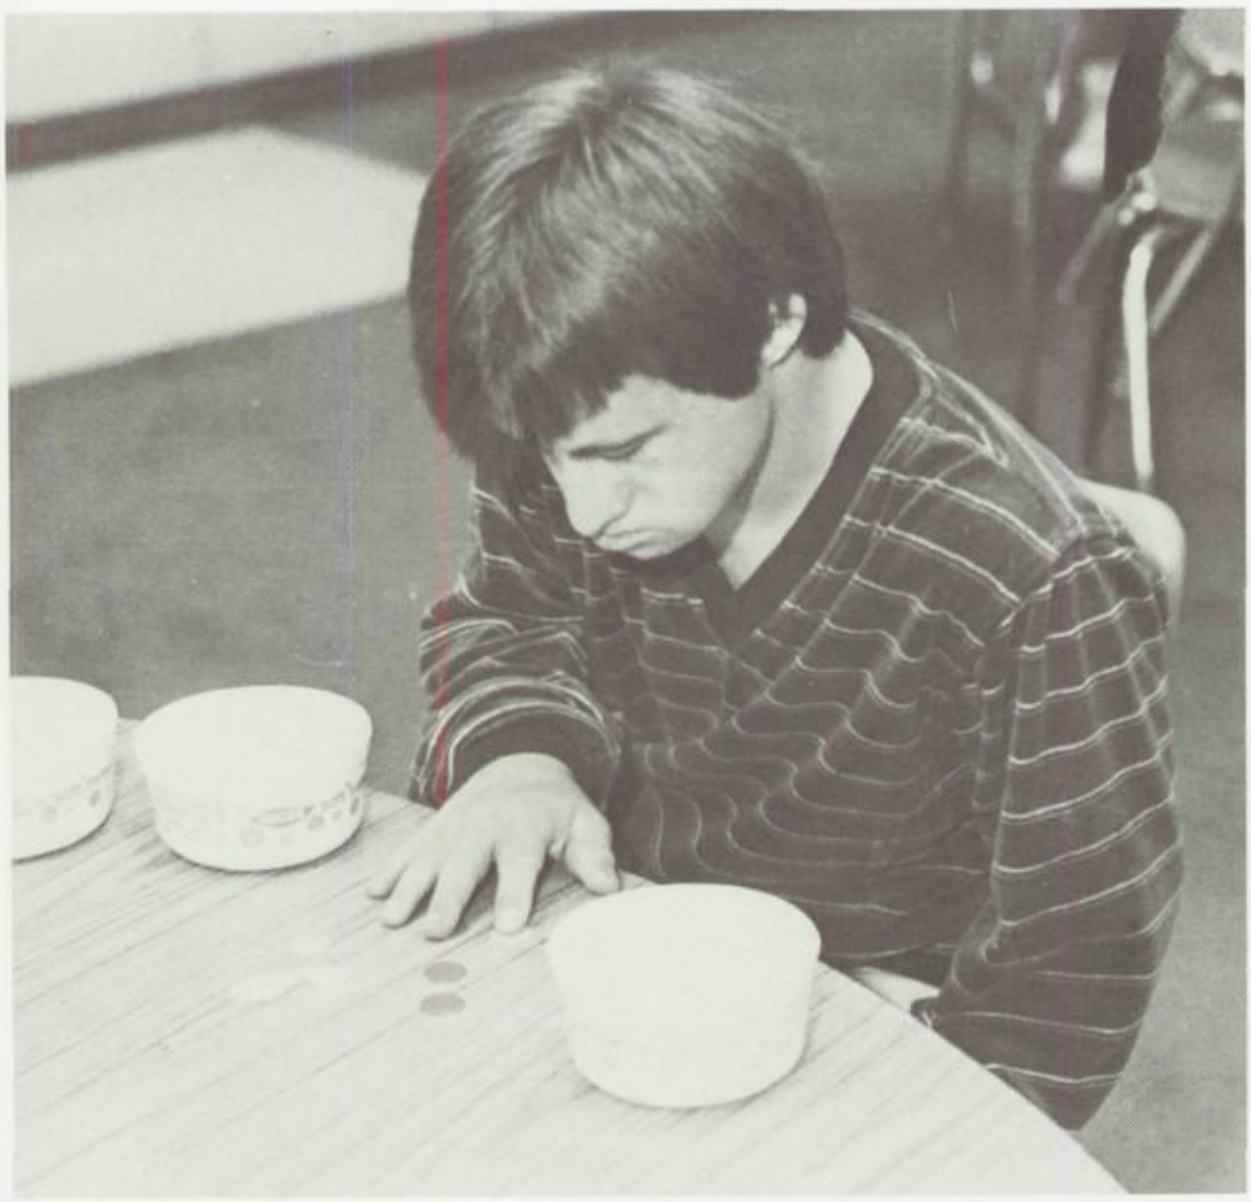
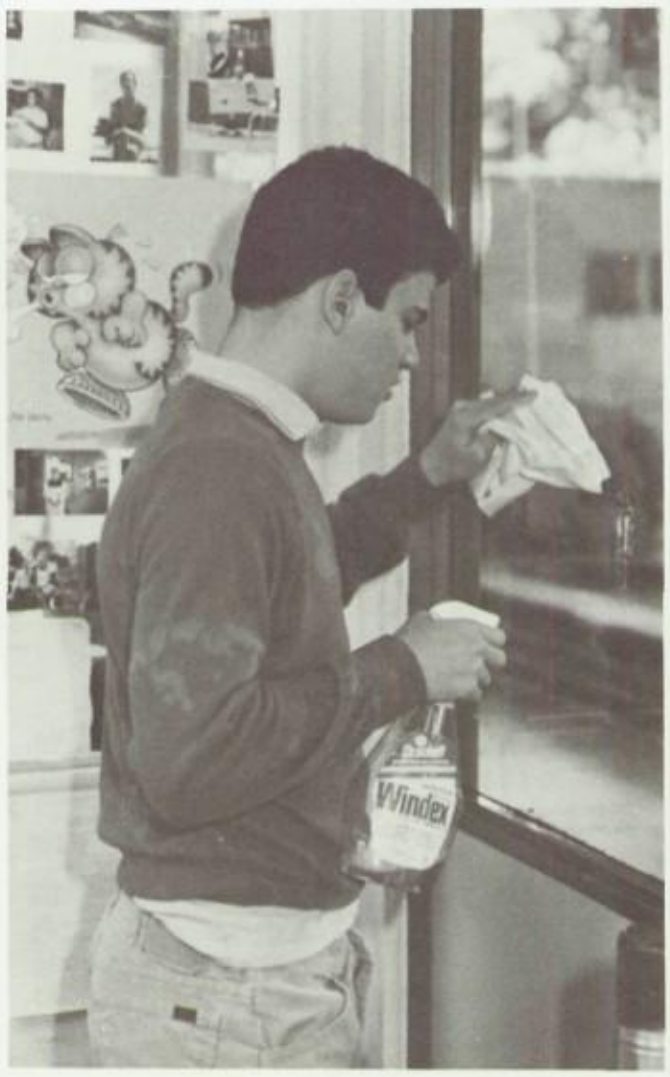
Special

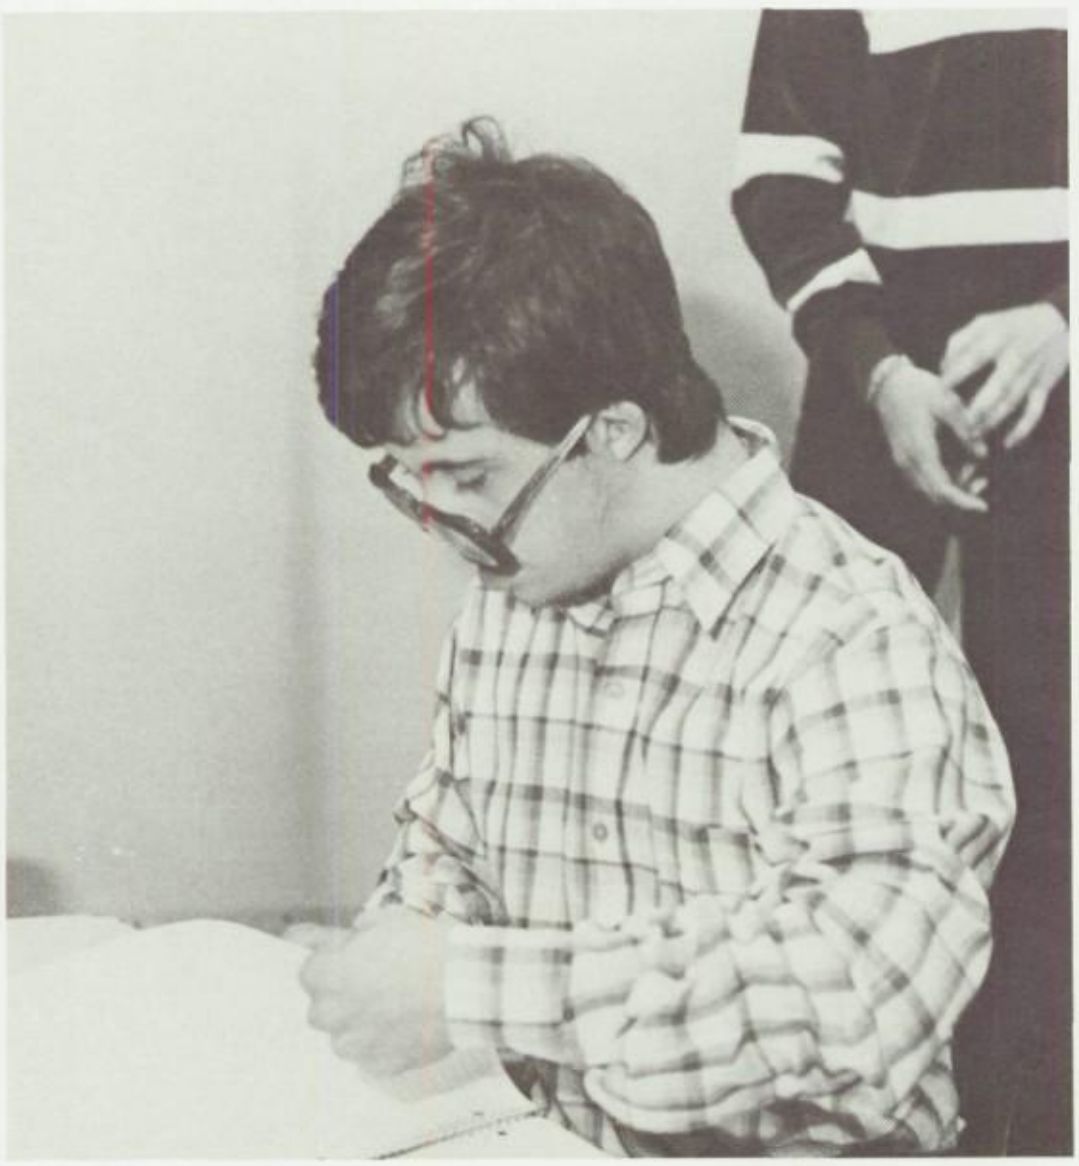
Helping People Help Themselves

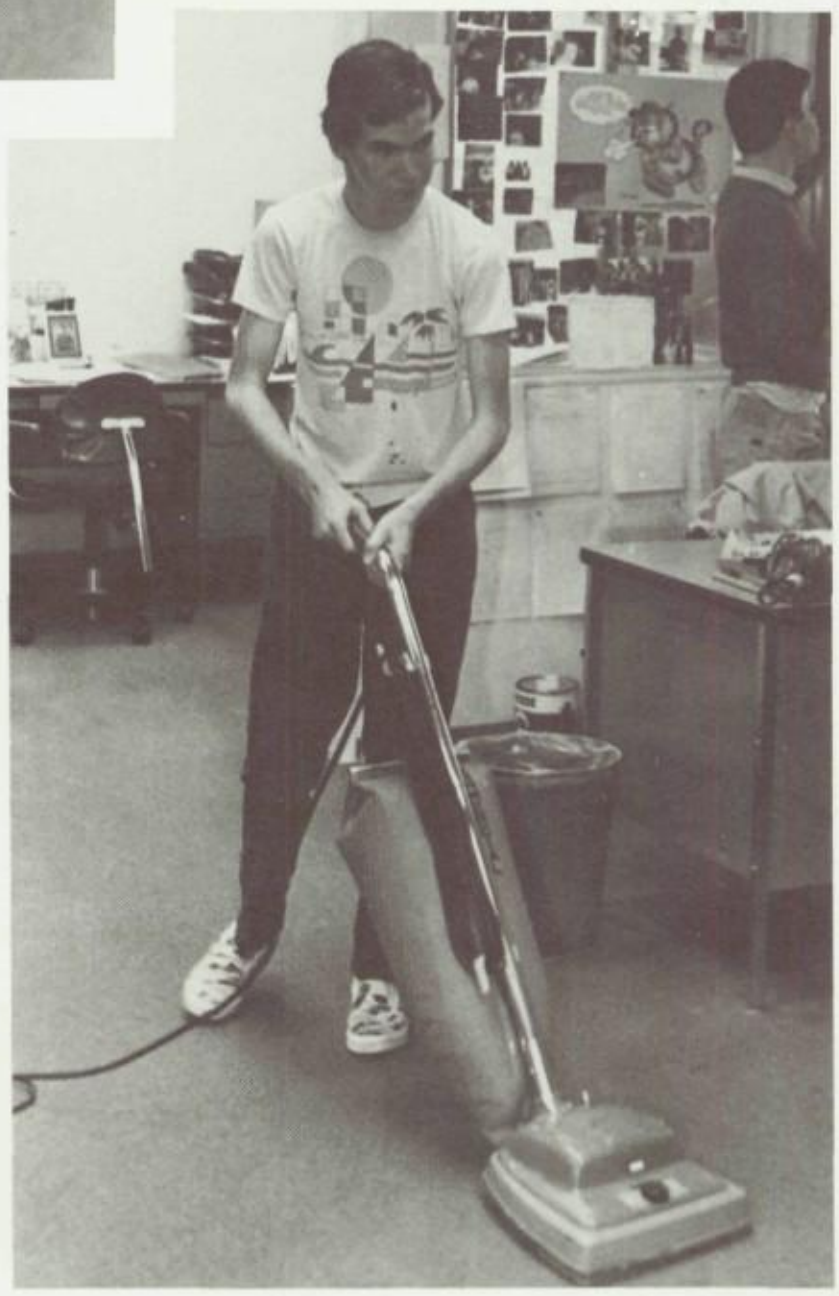
There is a special group of people at ECVHS. They are the mentally handicapped of the TMR unit. Our students who have worked with these special people all agree that it's an experience they'll never forget. The job the teachers and their aides undertake with love is one that will teach their students how to live and work on their own in a difficult world.

Education







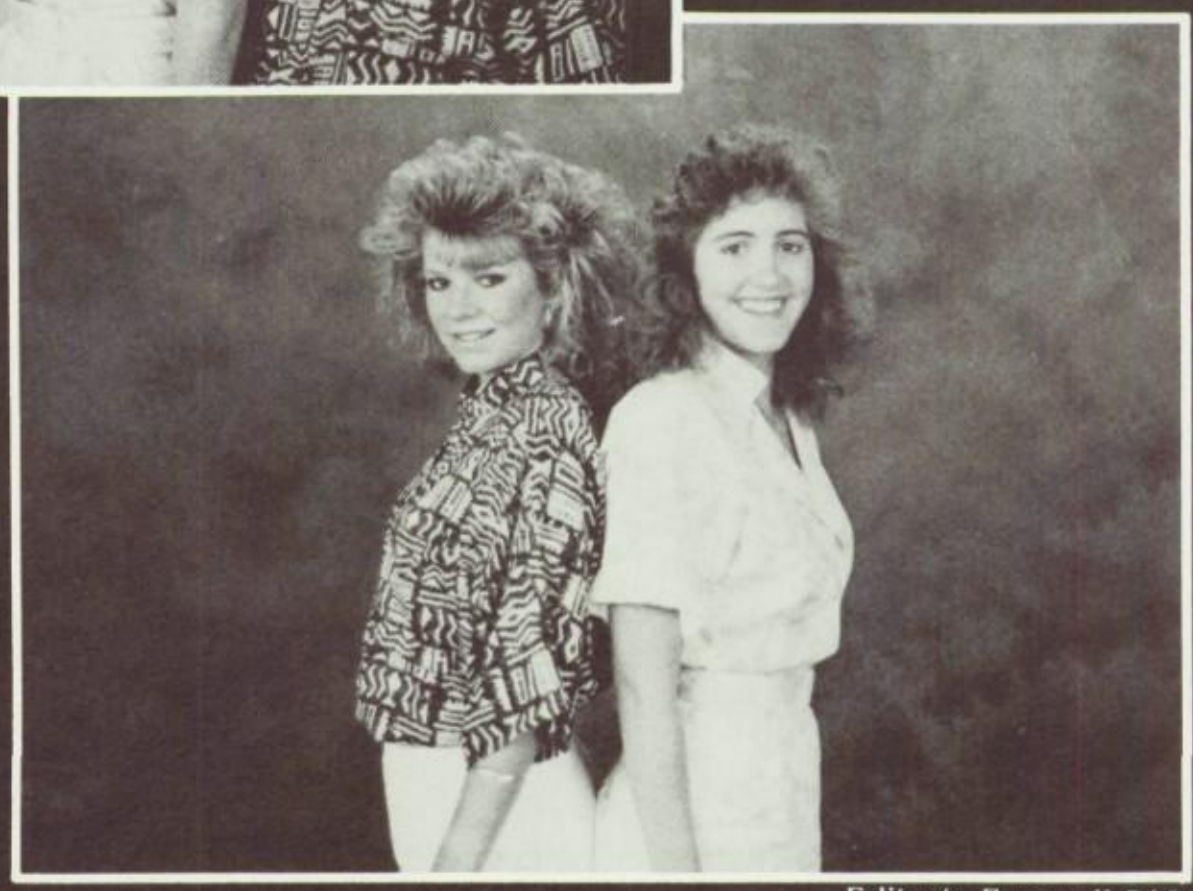


Goodbye El Cajon

Hey! Do you remember our freshman year? How goofy and young we looked? Now as we look around we can see how each of us has grown due to our experiences here at El Cajon. It seemed just yesterday that our senior year began, but now it slowly approaches the end. Its going to be sad saying goodbye to close friends and to the faculty at El Cajon, but just as every other year, we must move on toward our goals and dreams to make a future for ourselves.

To the faculty we thank you. for all the knowledge you bestowed on us.

Hello World!



To the friends who have come and gone - thank you for all the memories.

And to the class of '87 we wish all of you the best!!!

Love,
Carrie

Hey Lissa! The past eight years have been grand! Remember the good times - and learn from the bad. Were there any bad times though? Hey, what happened to "Gas King", the Civic Center, going to the beach on the bus, rolling Toni's car down the drive way, the chicken ranch-the gun at my head, "Celebration", JV Cheer 84-85, B-R-V-E-Sthe ice in Teri's car, getting lost going to the Coronado game, and let us not forget the great times with our friends. Go Braves! Thanks Lissa for everything and thanks for always being such a great friend! Shawnie, the "Glory of Love"! See you, A.S.B.! Go for Pre Leeann! C-Ya! Samantha Landers

Hey Sami, It's been eight years now and we've had many good times and many memories. Remember the Chicken Ranch? And Toddles, we've become very close these past four years. Thanks for every thing? I Love Ya, Babe! Her's to the JV Cheer of 84-85 and the times we shared together. To Airheads #1 and #3, Go B-r-v-e-s? I'll always remember my secret lover. I'll love you always! Lis I could go on forever- the summer of '86 was the best. Good luck and always follow your dreams!

Love and friendship always, your orange M & M- Melody

Mel - My little orange M & M,
